

Coronation Of Novato's Western Queen Tonight

Queen of Novato's Western Weekend will be selected at 8 o'clock tonight in the first big event of the celebration, the pageant of queen candidates at the Community Building.

In addition to the queen, two princesses will be selected from among 10 contestants.

A talent show and one-act play, "The Widow's Lament or Virtue Victorious," presented by the Fling section of the Community Club, will complete the evening's entertainment.

The western's weekend parade is scheduled for 11 a.m. tomorrow.

The parade's 129 entries will take approximately two hours to pass the reviewing stand at 1500 Grant Avenue said David Douglass, parade chairman.

The members of the Tamalpais amateur radio club will have mobile radio sets along Grant Avenue from Reichert Avenue to Seventh Street to coordinate the movement of the units, Douglass said.

One year, a tourist became tired of waiting at the light at Diablo Avenue and Highway 101, for the parade to pass, and drove around Novato during the parade. Later he was transferred to San Francisco. He liked Novato so well that he immediately moved here and is still living here, Douglass reported.

Parade prizes will be awarded at 2 p.m. at the Patterson Ranch at Seventh Street and Grant Avenue.

Other western weekend events tomorrow include: Buckaroo breakfast at 7 a.m.

at Lee Brothers Market; carnival, 1 p.m. to midnight; chicken barbecue at 1:45 p.m. at Patterson Ranch; beard contest at 4 p.m. at the ranch, and Western Weekend dance at 9 p.m. at the community clubhouse.

GOLDEN JUBILEE—Msgr. John McGarr, pastor of St. Anselm's Catholic Parish, will be honored Sunday and again a week later on completion of a half century as an ordained priest. (Independent-Journal photo)

TO BE HONORED

St. Anselm's McGarr A Priest 50 Years

By PAUL MILLER

A slim, unassuming man, who is more well known in Marin than he may realize, next Friday will have been an ordained Catholic priest for one-half century.

He is Msgr. John McGarr, pastor of St. Anselm's Parish in San Anselmo since the summer of 1934.

There will be two celebrations in his honor, at the church. Sunday from 2 to 4 p.m. at St. Anselm's auditorium, a parish reception will be held. A week later, June 24, Most Rev. Joseph T. McGucken, archbishop of San Francisco, will attend Solemn High Mass, along with other invited guests of the ministry and laity, at St. Anselm's. The Mass will be followed by another reception honoring Monsignor McGarr.

Monsignor McGarr was ordained at St. Mary's Cathedral in San Francisco June 22, 1912. At 77, he still maintains a full pastoral schedule, hikes twice weekly, and instead of his former two assistant pastors, has one: Rev. Donald Kelly.

His parishioners know him as a dedicated, reserved, academic priest who rarely forgets their names and the milestones in their lives. One of his prime efforts as a pastor has been to promote among his parishioners the necessity of family prayer.

"To see family prayer hold together a group through love, is one of the great pleasures of his priesthood," one churchman remarked of the monsignor.

The San Anselmo pastor

tries to avoid publicity and fanfare. But by reason of his being in the ministry for 50 years, this next week will be a troublesome one in this respect.

Monsignor McGarr was born in Snelling, Merced County, where when he was a youth he used to bale hay in 113-degree heat. In 1902 he entered St. Patrick's Seminary in Menlo Park. In the spring of 1947 Pope Pius XII named Father McGarr a domestic prelate which gave him the title of monsignor.

Before that honor he had served as assistant pastor at St. Mary's Church in Stockton in 1912-14. The latter year he became a professor at his alma mater, where he taught for the next two years. In 1918 he was named assistant pastor of St. Brigid's Church and later of Sacred Heart Church, both in San Francisco.

Before his 1934 appointment in Marin, Monsignor McGarr was pastor at St. Martin's Church in San Jose for 11 years. The veteran priest has been dean of Marin County since March 10, 1938, and a parish priest consultant and member of the Council of Vigilance since 1935. He was also a member of the Archdiocesan Consultors from 1942 to 1955.

APATHY CITED

Fulltime CD Chief Refused By Board

With blasts at "the apathy of the public on civil defense," Marin County supervisors unanimously refused to authorize a fulltime county civil defense chief.

This position had been budgeted at $10,644 yearly by request of the Disaster and Civil Defense Council, but Asst. Auditor Michael Mitchell warned to expect the cost to run $12,000 to $15,000.

When Mrs. Jean Smith of the county civil defense office pointed to possible federal reimbursements, Mitchell recalled that three board members had had experience with a full-time civil defense head, and reimbursements.

"The thing grew and grew to a point where costs were so great the office was abolished and civil defense went back to the office of the administrator, where I think it belongs," Mitchell said.

Administrator Alan Bruce, who had recommended against the fulltime head, said that if the board provides him with an administrative assistant he would favor bringing civil defense back to his office.

Chairman Walter R. Castro stressed that "little interest has been shown by the cities," a view reinforced by Supervisor William D. Fusselman.

"I am seriously concerned over the apathy of the public," said Fusselman. "If we ever need action we won't get it with a part-time man."

Ward H. Austin, assistant director of the civil defense council, argued without avail for the fulltime position. A board poll showed everyone but Fusselman voting "part-time," so Fusselman joined for unanimity.

Citizens Urge More Services From Novato

By THERON A. NEWELL

Novato citizens told their city council last night they want it to spend more money and get more done.

Of 19 persons who spoke at a preliminary hearing on the city's 1962-63 budget, only one asked for any curtailment of spending. He was E. D. King of 590 Sunset Parkway. He asked a cut in expenses of the Monte Maria landscaping maintenance program which the city took over from a former community services district.

All the others asked the city council to spend more for streets, police, recreation and other city functions.

Former councilman Charles R. Johnson read a statement saying: "There are many people who are willing to pay the cost of fully staffed police department, public works department, planning department and recreation department."

Alan Swabacker, speaking for the Lynwood Home Owners Assn., called for more spending on street repair because "the streets were never in worse shape."

He also asked for a swimming pool and more city services.

"Let's get the services or go out of incorporation and back to the county," he demanded.

James Rose of 475 Arthur Street said "the aspirations of incorporation have not come to realization." Rose singled out the public works and police departments as needing larger and better paid staffs.

"An adequately paid police force and a fulltime planner" were asked by Ralph Salvemini, unsuccessful candidate for the city council in the April 10 election. "We get nothing for nothing; we must pay for it," Salvemini said.

Mrs. John Machado, former member of the parks and recreation committee, said

Council Boosts Hub Salaries By 5 Per Cent

The San Anselmo City Council last night granted a 5 per cent blanket pay raise to city employees, voted money to replace an obsolete traffic signal, and then cut and squeezed the fiscal 1963 budget back into balance to avoid—it hopes—an increase in taxes.

The new tentative budget figure is $626,330, as compared to $618,050 for the current fiscal year.

After its juggling exercise, the council gave tentative approval to City Administrator Douglas J. Flautt's budget, which Flautt will now put in final form for adoption at a subsequent meeting.

Flautt estimated that the salary increase would add $17,500 to expenditures.

This was more than could be offset by eliminating three new police cars requested by Chief Raymond R. Buchignani — a move which was considered but abandoned.

The councilmen eliminated proposed pension upgrading for miscellaneous city employees ($4,500), a new position of building aide ($7,500), an additional police officer ($6,160), a projector for showing maps and diagrams at council meetings ($275), part of the auditor's fee ($150) and a park and recreation department study ($1,000). The last item will be paid for instead of out of the current budget.

Having deleted $19,645, the council then added $6,500 to replace an old overhead traffic light at the intersection of

Officials Think Three Felons Drowned In Bay

Evidence Reported Found

Federal prison authorities today leaned toward the theory that the three men who dug their way out of Alcatraz have drowned in the chilly, treacherous waters of San Francisco Bay.

It was reported the Federal Bureau of Investigation had found, during a search of the bay last night, evidence indicating the three escapees had drowned. But Frank L. Price, chief special agent in the FBI's San Francisco office, refused to confirm or deny the report or to say anything on the FBI's role in the search except that "we are doing everything we can think of."

The men, Frank L. Morris, 35, and the Anglin brothers, John, 32, and Clarence, 31, have been missing since Tuesday morning.

In what is said to be the largest manhunt ever conducted in the western states by the Department of Justice, 300 FBI agents have joined in the search.

Marin County sheriff's deputies still patrolled the Marin coast today, but the Army had completed its search of Angel Island, where the men may have hidden—if they reached its shores.

If the men drowned, prison authorities estimated it would be at least seven days before their bodies would rise to the surface of the bay waters.

Or, their fate may end in mystery as in the case of two other Alcatraz prisoners who vanished in a thick fog in 1937. No trace of the two men, Ralph Roe and Theodore Cole, was

Cheered And Helped By Fellows, Invalid At Redwood Wins Diploma

Three-hundred and thirty seniors marched up to receive their diplomas last night at Redwood High School.

One rode in a wheelchair.

Stephen Ross, 18, has been confined to wheelchairs since he was in the seventh grade at Adeline E. Kent School. Although afflicted with muscular dystrophy since he was 3 years old, he has completed a college preparatory course with very little special help.

He plans to attend college of Marin next fall and wants to be an architect.

"I used to be able to walk, but then it became easier to use the chair," said Stephen, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Ross, 121 Oak Avenue, Kentfield. "Now I have to use it."

In addition to his regular school work, Stephen has attended therapy classes twice a week at the Marindale School for Handicapped. His mother has driven him to and from the high school every day, and his classmates have carried him up and down two flights of stairs in the school's main building.

"He's never asked any favors," said Mrs. Penny Nelson, Stephen's counselor. "He has a host of friends, about 50 boys at least, who are happy to help him around. But he's been given no special favors in his classes and has taken a good, strong college prep course."

Stephen was a loyal fan of Redwood's baseball team this spring, and he won a special award for attending all the school games.

"I took trigonometry last fall, so I didn't have much time for football," he said.

President Asks GOP Help, Aid For Yugoslavia, Poland

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy, giving Democrats in Congress a light pat on the back, has urged Republicans to ignore party labels and vote for his major proposals.

Kennedy's prod at his news conference yesterday amounted to a concession that he needs GOP votes on some issues as well as a challenge to Republicans to adopt a non-partisan stance on "matters of great national import."

As a senator, Kennedy recalled, he sided with former Republican President Dwight D. Eisenhower on such questions as raising the debt limit and permitting aid to Communist Poland and Yugoslavia as a tool of foreign policy. He encouraged Republican support on these proposals. And he put special emphasis on his farm bill, already passed by the Senate, to couple production controls with price supports for wheat and feed grains.

Kennedy also used the nationally televised conference to exhort flight engineers "to meet their public responsibilities" and abandon strike threats against Pan American, Trans World and Eastern airlines. He did not rule out the possibility of seeking authority to seize the airlines if the engineers walked out, but said he hoped they would submit their dispute to arbitration or find some other peaceful solution.

Then, in reply to questions, Kennedy suggested politics and old positions be discarded in favor of fresh thinking on business and the economy. Here, he appealed to Republicans outside of Congress to concentrate on "the real problems of our country" and wait until 1964 to argue politics. Those problems exist regardless of who occupies the White House, he said, commenting that Eisenhower held office during the 1958 and 1960 recessions. The chief executive said he couldn't imagine anyone deriving political or personal pleasure out of the stock market plunge or economic crises. That was his response when asked about a columnist's report that the current big business attitude toward Kennedy is: "Now we have you where we want you."

Kennedy previously had remarked that most businessmen are Republicans and happier when a Republican is president.

He got a laugh by saying: "I can't believe I am where big business wants me."

Laughter again rolled through the auditorium when he said he'd read the column in the St. Louis Post Dispatch, the newspaper added to the White House reading list when the New York Herald Tribune was canceled.

On support of his legislative program, Kennedy said members of his own party have done pretty well, except for a few who habitually vote with Republicans. He noted that when the House passed his request yesterday to raise the debt ceiling to 308 billion dollars, only nine Republicans voted with him but "Democrats met their responsibility."

Kennedy had this to say on other topics:

Economic Policy—Asked whether government would play an active role in industry and labor wage-price discussions, he said that in a free economy, "We have to attempt to work out the solutions on a voluntary basis."

Deficits—It's not true, Kennedy repeated from his Yale speech of Monday, that budget deficits necessarily induce inflation.

Soviet Union—If agreement on an independent coalition government sticks in Laos, Kennedy said the atmosphere may change and more amicable relations may be possible with the Soviet Union.

Foreign Aid—Senate-voted restrictions on aid to Yugoslavia and Poland represent favors for Moscow, Kennedy said. More broadly, he said the aid program is designed to maintain the Free World's position.

Southeast Asia—Kennedy said U.S. policy in Southeast Asia should always be under review, a point made by Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana in a speech questioning results of U.S. moves in that region.

Space—While the Pentagon plays a significant part in the space program, Kennedy said, the civilian space agency will retain primary responsibility.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Atomic Blast Force Estimated

WASHINGTON (UPI)—It would take a string of railroad freight cars almost 190 miles long to haul enough TNT to equal the nuclear blast the United States plans to set off over the Pacific early next week.

The Atomic Energy Commission and the Defense Department announced yesterday that the first in a series of high-altitude shots over Johnston Island was scheduled to be set off between 11 p.m. next Monday and 2:30 a.m. next Tuesday, Hawaiian Standard Time (six hours behind Eastern Daylight Time.)

The explosion will be in the megaton range, meaning it will unleash a force equal to 1 million tons of TNT or more.

Bombs Damage Algiers Hospital

ALGIERS (AP)—Seven plastic bombs heavily damaged three surgical pavilions and the central laboratory of Algiers' vast Mustapha Hospital today in the wake of a Secret Army Organization announcement that it was launching an all-out campaign to lay waste to Algeria.

Hospital officials said no one was injured.

The hospital said the surgical pavilions and laboratory have been rendered useless.

IDAHO FALLS, Id. (UPI)—A gusher of natural gas from a ruptured 10-inch gas main burst into flames last night near Idaho Falls, killing a man and severely burning four others.

The bones of the dead man were discovered in the ditch in which the men had been working three hours after the fire started.

Twin Has Operation

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Patricia Lowe, larger of the Siamese twins separated by surgery at Children's Hospital May 29, was reported resting comfortably today after a second operation.

In surgery taking less than one hour yesterday, skin was taken from the infant's abdomen and grafted to the area of the breast bone where she and her sister, Prudence, had been joined when born April 11.

Red Guard Kills Boy

BERLIN (UPI)—A Communist border guard shot and killed a 12-year-old East Berlin boy in a garden border strip across the wall from the U.S. Sector, West Berlin police reported today.

They said the boy lay bleeding in the field for an hour before an ambulance arrived.

Tornadoes Hit Plains

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL
The week-long rash of tornadoes continued in the Great Plains during the night, and thunderstorms pelted heavy rain on both sides of the Mason-Dixon line early today.

A six-inch rainfall in North Carolina's Roanoke River Valley resulted in a flash flood which inundated U.S. 301 near the Virginia line with 20 inches of water, closing the highway.

A tornado chewed through a section of Canyon, Tex., overturning three house trailers, knocking down power lines and unroofing a home. There were no injuries.

Angry Liz Walks Out

ISLE OF ISCHIA, Italy (UPI)—Elizabeth Taylor today walked off the set of "Cleopatra," but co-star Richard Burton persuaded her to come back to work.

The 30-year-old star, who didn't show up for work Saturday, was rehearsing on a barge for a scene, when she spotted a non-studio photographer and angrily left the barge.

Burton, smiling and laughing, talked to her and finally she smiled and went back to the barge.

N.Y. Exec Probe On

NEW YORK (AP)—Both the Securities and Exchange Commission and the district attorney's office are looking into the affairs of Edward M. Gilbert, who flew to Brazil after acknowledging that he withdrew $1,953,000 without authorization from the E. L. Bruce Co.

Federal officials seized the personal files of Gilbert yesterday. He resigned as president and director of Bruce, a flooring manufacturer, before he left the country for Rio de Janeiro.

At the same time the office of Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan said it was looking into all phases of Gilbert's far-ranging financial activities.

House Backs Kennedy's Debt Ceiling

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has chalked up for President John F. Kennedy what may be a short-lived victory in his fight for a temporary national debt ceiling of 308 billion dollars.

By a vote of 211-192 it sent to the Senate yesterday a bill upholding the president's position after defeating, 258-145, a Republican-backed drive for a 306-billion-dollar limit.

More trouble lies ahead in the Senate. Harry F. Byrd (D-Va.) chairman of the finance committee, opposes the larger figure.

Byrd has suggested no compromise figure, but informed guessing is that in its final form the limit will be pegged at 306 billion dollars, a figure the administration claims won't give it enough leeway to deal with fiscal fluctuations during the coming year.

Kennedy suggested at his news conference yesterday that failure to raise the debt ceiling could have a profound effect on the economy.

The Senate Finance Committee, headed by Byrd, doesn't plan to start hearings on the debt limit increase before June 25.

That is five days before the end of the present fiscal year.

Estes In Red, Tells Creditors Debts Total $38 Million

EL PASO, Tex. (UPI)—Billie Sol Estes advised U.S. District Court today that he owes $38,387,935.87.

At the same time, he claimed assets totaling $20,793,155.95, leaving liabilities of $17,594,779.92 which the sale of his assets would not meet.

Estes filed a schedule of assets and liabilities shortly before meeting many of his creditors face-to-face in U.S. Dist. Judge R. E. Thomason's courtroom.

After Estes was sworn in he denied that he has assets hidden in banks in Switzerland or anywhere else in the world. He took the Fifth Amendment six times today in refusing to answer questions but answered emphatically when lawyer Allen Poage asked him about hidden assets.

Estes ticked off five U.S. banks in which he has personal accounts and said he has accounts for business purposes in 12 U.S. banks.

"I have no other bank accounts in any shape or form, safety deposit boxes, cash or any accounts anywhere in the United States or the world," Estes said.

An accounting firm is reported to be checking Estes' books for any evidence of assets hidden in Switzerland.

Printed reports said there is about four million dollars in his accounts that it has not been possible to locate.

Estes said his debts include $5,985.85 to the Baptist Foundation of Texas from which he bought the land for his luxurious Pecos, Tex., home. He said payments on the house are $177 a month and his brother John is taking care of them.

Meanwhile in Washington the president of a company which extended Estes more than five million dollars in credits today angrily denied charges he got inside information from the Agriculture Department on its farm program.

He said allegations to this effect were reckless, preposterous and without foundations.

Maynard C. Wheeler, president of Commercial Solvents Corp., New York, made the denial in an opening statement before a House Intergovernmental Operations Subcommittee investigating Estes' tangled affairs. The West Texas financier is under indictment on charges of fraud.

The charge of a three-way collusion between officials of Commercial Solvents, the Agriculture Department and Estes was made yesterday by Rep. Ross Bass (D-Tenn.) a subcommittee member.

PRISONER TAKES IT ON THE WING

A small owl upset routine at the San Rafael Police Station today. At 4 a.m., Mrs. Salvatore Tringali of 229 Irwin Street phoned police to please come and get the bird, which awakened her two hours earlier and had been flying around in her house, eluding capture, ever since. Officer James W. Carlson turned a flashlight beam in the owl's eyes and caught it.

But later it escaped again at the police station, where it is seen giving the owl-eye to Dispatcher Harold Thomson. Six-foot four-inch Independent-Journal photographer Dick Steinheimer recaptured it for the coppers. They took it away to a place where it can fly—Boyd Natural Science Museum. Ex-Marine Admits Grabbing Woman Claude Hilton Bradley, 22-year-old ex-Marine who is indicted for the murder of a San Rafael mother on June 3, admitted he grabbed her in an attempt to be intimate with her, then fled when she went limp.

Bradley's statements were disclosed in the transcript of a grand jury hearing, filed today with the county clerk.

Bradley, a maintenance man living at 36 Woodland Avenue, San Rafael, was arrested at the Ignacio home of his mother on June 3. He was indicted by the Marin County Grand Jury on a charge of murder of Mrs. Carole Leona Frederick, 29, estranged wife of a former San Rafael policeman. She was found strangled in her bedroom at 45 Woodland Avenue on the morning of June 3.

The grand jury transcript shows that Bradley gave this statement to Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety and San Rafael police: "I thought of running away and I thought of killing myself, thought of coming in. I thought of everything. And I knew it was coming and I decided—just waited."

Bradley made the statement to the district attorney in the presence of San Rafael Police Chief Charles J. Chiesa, Inspector Nick Giampoli, and stenographer Nadene T. Benno.

He told the investigators he stopped at Mrs. Frederick's apartment about 2:30 a.m. on June 3 to call a cab. While waiting for cab, "I went and asked for a glass of water." He said Mrs. Frederick was in the bedroom of her three children because one of them had fallen out of bed and was crying. She was comforting the child.

Here is a portion of the grand jury transcript on questions put by District Attorney Garety and the answers given by the suspect:

Question: You do recall putting your hand on her?

Answer: (He nods affirmatively).

Question: Is it right that it was on her throat?

Answer: I don't know where it was. I just grabbed her.

Question: Did you say anything to her to see if she was conscious.

Answer: I called her name and—nothing, she just moaned and . . . She wouldn't move. She wouldn't. I called her name again and she didn't do nothing, and I got up and got out of there.

Bradley, represented by the Marin public defender, is scheduled to appear in Marin Superior Court on June 25 to plead to the murder charge. He is being held in Marin County Jail without bail.

ever round. Prison officials at that time were convinced they drowned.

Fred T. Wilkinson, assistant director of federal prisons, said he is convinced the men failed to survive the frigid waters of the bay.

Two trained athletes made an experimental swim yesterday. Donald T. Kane, 28, and William Steuart, 25, both of San Francisco, swam the nearly two-mile alleged escape route from Alcatraz to Angel Island in 53 minutes. But they admitted the water was "very cold." Prison officials said men who had spent years behind prison walls would not be able to survive.

A home-made paddle found Tuesday night in waters off Angel Island was similar to another made in Alcatraz's furniture shop and found inside the prison.

This seemed to confirm authorities said, the story told them by a fourth prisoner who took part in plans for the ingenious escape. Allen C. West, a Georgia car thief, said the men planned to reach the Marin County shore via Angel Island, using inflated raincoat sleeves from the prison as rafts.

After reaching Marin, the men planned, West said, to steal civilian clothes from a Marin clothing store.

But Wilkinson said no food, clothing or money has been reported stolen.

Jury Begins Deliberation Of Rape Case

Twelve women were locked in a jury room this noon, trying to decide the fate of a Richmond garbage man who is accused of raping and robbing a Mill Valley school teacher in 1960.

The garbage man, Lemone Brown, 34, testified he had never seen the woman until police arrested him and he was taken to the county jail for a lineup.

The woman, a 33-year-old divorcee, said she awoke on the morning of Dec. 17, 1960, to find a man standing at her bedroom door. She said he attacked her, threatening to kill her if she looked at him. She could not identify Brown positively at the lineup.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales, the prosecutor, and defense lawyer Peter Allen Smith argued the case before the jury yesterday.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson, sitting in Marin Superior Court, instructed the jurors this morning. They went into deliberations at 10:20 a.m.

Brown was convicted of the rape-robbery last year, but the decision was reversed by the District Court of Appeals. This is the second trial of the same case.

The higher court reversed the conviction on two grounds. The jury had convicted him on rape, robbery, sex perversion and felony assault. The appellate court ruled that it was double jeopardy to convict on both rape and felony assault.

The court also found that an "admission" obtained from Brown in the first trial had been induced by a belief that he would get leniency.

reaction commission, outlined a six-point program. This included constructing side walks, eliminating open ditches, acquiring the Patterson Ranch, a swimming pool and an ambulance, and starting a children's recreation program.

Douglas McNeil of 23 Novak Lane said that only on the city level did the people get $1 value for $1 invested in government. He asked for more men and pay for the police department.

Special requests were made of the council by Mrs. Wayne Tharpe, representing the Garden Club, for $200 to water trees on Grant Avenue, and William Berry, president of the Chamber of Commerce, for matching funds equal to 75 percent of membership dues, as received from the city last year.

Not once during the hearing did the figures in the $406,795 preliminary 1962-63 budget come up for discussion. City Administrator J. Julien Baget submitted the budget on May 29 to the city council. It is $35,000 more than the 1961-62 budget and shows a $19,820 deficit.

Expected revenue for the coming year was put at $351,085. The city has a 20-cent lighting tax and a 10-cent recreation tax. Otherwise it derives all of its income from licenses, permits and state rebates.

The council adjourned until 8 p.m. next Tuesday when it will start a study of the budget. After it has completed this study, it will hold a second public hearing.

OLD BUS DEPOT, CAFE FALL

Bulldozers demolished the Greyhound Bus Lines depot at Marin City yesterday to make way for a complete new commercial area. The 18-year-old depot is a familiar spot to many Marin commuters since it is also a transfer point. Along with the depot will go Mamieray T. Judson's Coffee Shop. Both depot and restaurant have been located across the street temporarily. (Independent-Journal photo)

Cal-Vet Bonds Bought For Record Low Rate

SACRAMENTO (AP) — California sold 100 million dollars worth of veterans farm and home loans to an eastern syndicate yesterday at a net interest rate of 3.207 per cent. State Treasurer Bert Betts said the sale to a syndicate headed by the Bankers Trust Co. of New York was at the lowest rate on a California state bond sale in four years.

The bid was the lowest of three. The others were 3.247 per cent by a syndicate headed by the Bank of America and 3.283 per cent by the State Securities Corp.

Betts said the interest rate was below the national bond-buying index, and demonstrates the value of competitive bidding.

"We are also gratified at receiving such fine bids during a period of unsettled market conditions," Betts said. "We interpret this as a tribute to the fiscal soundness of California and her bonds."

The bonds, third block from a 1960 bond issue of $400 million, will be used to finance Cal-Vet loans to veterans. Voters approved a $250 million issue to continue the program at last week's primary election.

Gov. Brown hailed the low-interest sale as "a resounding vote of confidence" for state fiscal policies.

He said it demonstrates that the California's economy is basically sound.

The state will pay $49,457,633 interest on the bonds, compared to $50,071,579 at the rate offered by the second low bid. Figures were not available for the third bid.

Director Half Achieves 200-Voice Choir Goal

Dr. S. Drummond Wolff, who arrived in Marin County a year ago and said he planned to organize a 200-voice chorus for Marin, has reached the halfway mark.

Dr. Wolff, recently appointed to the music staff at College of Marin (where he will start work in the fall), plans to merge the 40-voice Marin Philharmonic Choir he organized last year with the college's community chorus he expects to direct.

"With the merger," he said, "I hope to have a group of about 100 voices. Combined, they will be enough to do the major works for the voice, including the great oratorios."

Dr. Wolff will continue his current job as organist and choirmaster at Holy Innocents' Parish in Corte Madera. Besides directing the chorus, he will teach music theory, voice and organ—when the college acquires one.

Besides working as organist and choir director of churches from London to Bermuda, he has composed some 95 works—most for choral groups. He will present a recital of his compositions at 4 p.m. Sunday at the parish church.

Greenbrae Association Sets Picnic Sunday Near Nicasio

The Greenbrae Property Owners Assn. will hold a picnic beginning at noon, Sunday, June 24, at Rancho Nicasio, near Nicasio.

Only association members may attend the picnic, which will feature swimming and evening barbecue. For further information call William G. Fleckles, association president.

In other action at their monthly meeting this week, association directors agreed to ask the Larkspur City Council for cooperation in installing a traffic light at the intersection of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and Eliseo Drive, where the new Larkspur fire department recently was built. The board will also ask the council to post speed limit signs along Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in the Greenbrae area of Larkspur to stop speeding.

Young Marinites Poster Winners

Three young artists from Marin County are among the top 17 in a poster contest on fire prevention sponsored by the Redwood Region Conservation Council.

The winners were selected from more than 900 entries. Carol Kemp of Tamalpais High School won $10 for her poster, which took third in the senior high competition. Patty Seita, Del Mar School, Tiburon, won $10 for third place in the primary division, and Terry Brooke of the Belvedere Elementary School won $5 for fourth in the same division.

Drake High PTA Gives Scholarship For 1962

Andrea Anker is the 1962 recipient of the Drake Parent-Teacher Assn. scholarship.

She was chosen on the basis of scholarship, activities, future plans, and the fact that she has not been granted financial aid for college previously. The Sir Francis Drake P-TA awards at least one scholarship annually to outstanding seniors.

Imported Goods Store To Open San Rafael Shop

A branch of Villa Iris Imports, San Francisco, is planned to be opened at 1444 Fourth Street, San Rafael about July 1.

Byron Trott, 8 Pigeon Hollow Road, San Rafael, owner of the business, said the store will retail imported Venetian glass, china, beeswax candles, chandeliers, Spanish wrought iron and other articles which he purchases on annual trips to Europe and Mexico. He said he also intends to carry a stock of imported wines.

Trott has operated his San Francisco business for the past 14 years. The San Rafael store will be managed by Mrs. Trott and his son, observing hours from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Mondays through Saturdays. It will be kept open during evening hours on Fridays.

Face Fiscal Facts, Bagley Tells Brown

Assemblyman William T. Bagley (R-San Rafael) today called upon Gov. Edmund G. Brown to "face the fiscal facts" of state government.

In a news release, Bagley charged that the defeat of Proposition No. 3 June 5 has left the 1962-63 state budget out of balance by 89 million dollars.

"The governor has spent every dime of tax monies, heretofore collected, to the prejudice of higher education, in the hope that he could ballast his budget with the bonds," Bagley said. "Now that the Proposition 3 bond issue has been defeated he finds that he has nothing left for university or college construction."

Instead of calling the special session of the Legislature, seeking presentation of the bonds again next fall, the governor should have the legislature review his budget, Bagley said.

"I now call upon the governor to call a special session to review and cut back his unbalanced budget, and I shall reiterate this request when we arrive in special session on June 26," Bagley said.

Driver Hurt Slightly As Car Takes To Ditch

An Oakland glazier suffered minor injuries at 3:20 a.m. yesterday when his car went off the road near the east end of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, half a mile west of the west gate of San Quentin Prison.

Paul C. Murphy said another vehicle coming at him head-on forced his car off the highway and into a ditch where it overturned. A passing motorist pulled his car back on the road. Though suffering from a cut over the right eye and a head cut, he declined hospitalization.

Sausalito Police Department Called More Efficient Now

More than one-third of the recommendations made in a state survey for improvement of the Sausalito police department operations have been adopted, city manager Charles A. Brown said today.

As a result, he said, "efficiency and production of the department have already increased and results were immediately evident."

Brown's report on the survey, submitted to the city in May by T. L. Hunter of the state department of justice, is on the agenda for discussion by the city council next Tuesday.

Police department recommendations in the proposed 1962-63 budget, Brown said, include $7,000 for an additional police sergeant, $2,500 for an additional police clerk and $3,500 for equipment. Total figure is $13,102.

Of the 33 recommendations, 13 have been adopted, Brown said. Four are considered to be either resolved or satisfied, four require financial approval by council and will be recommended in the 1962-63 budget. The remaining 12 are in need of more study, according to the city manager.

One of these is a recommendation for more police protection in the yacht harbors. Brown has suggested the city consider (1) no further coverage, (2) more extensive patrol, (3) city boat patrol with purchase of a boat to be manned by police or reserves, or (4) petition to county for a boat to be paid for in return for personal property taxes paid to the county for boats each year.

Brown said the city has directed owners of the Village Fair to place gates at the building's entrances.

He said it has been adopted that follow-up investigations be made on felony offenses. The rule against officers' accepting gifts of meals from restaurants has been re-emphasized.

Other changes adopted, according to Brown, are: state employment standards; maintaining an identification status file on officers; establishing policy of sending officers' fingerprints to the bureau;

Fire Unit Adopts Budget

Bolinas Fire Protection District commissioners last night adopted a 1962-63 budget figure of $7,035, of which $2,000 is to be set aside to provide a capital improvement fund.

The current budget is $5,550. Tax rate for 1962-63 is estimated at 47 cents per $100 assessed valuation as against this year's 27-cent rate.

Adjutant Sherman Smith said commissioners are looking toward an expansion program which might go into effect in about five years.

New Commissioner James Gougan took his seat on the board last night.

At a separate meeting, Donald Staude was re-elected chief of the Bolinas Volunteer Fire Department. Re-elected assistant chief were Donald Pepper and Peter Martin, who has recently returned from serving six months in the army at Fort Ord. Charles Bronson was elected secretary.

Final plans were made by volunteers for the annual cleanup to be held July 1 starting at 9 a.m.

Kent School Principal Will Head Prison Inmate Education Program

George H. Renworth, principal of Adaline E. Kent School in Kentfield, has been hired to head the inmate education program at San Quentin Prison at $15,000 per year.

Selection of Renworth was announced today by County Schools Supt. Virgil S. Hollis, whose office operates the prison school.

Renworth will succeed Norman H. McCollom, who is retiring June 30. His starting salary is $200 per year above what McCollom received this year. The inmate school operates on a year-around basis, offering courses through high school.

Hollis said applications for the position had been received "nationwide." A screening committee eliminated many. Selection of Renworth was by Hollis, Warden Fred R. Dickson of the prison, and Mrs. Adele J. Al-

Third Policeman Hired By Ross Town Council

The Town of Ross hired a third policeman last night.

Alexander J. Mendoza, a sergeant in the Belvedere Police Department, will start work for Ross July 1, the city council decided. Mendoza, with Belvedere for three years was making $425 per month. In his new duties as night patrolman he will make $600 per month.

Mendoza resides at 57 Platt Avenue in Sausalito, but will move near Ross soon, Councilman Frederick S. Allen said.

The council was told that the town's new $24,000 fire truck, being built in Oakdale, will be delivered Sept. 1. It will replace a 1926 truck the town plans to sell.

The Ross Council also: 1. Heard a letter from Mrs. Nick L. Ivancovich of Laurel Grove Avenue, complaining of noise and other disturbances at the Marin Art and Garden Center.

2. Was asked by the Art and Garden Center to grant more time for it to prepare a report on its activities and their relation to its use permit.

3. Referred letters from the Ross Property Owners Assn. regarding a suggested change in street signs on Ivy Drive to the Ross Protection Committee for study.

4. Mayor Harry C. Scott, who attended a high school graduation, was absent.

Midnight Mass on Christmas Eve in Mexico is called the Misa del Gallo, or Mass of the Cock. The name is derived from the Christian Roman practice of holding the first service at the cock's crow.

Marin Boys Favor Law Enforcement

The pay may be bad, but law enforcement is the favorite vocational field among Marin high school senior boys heading for College of Marin next fall.

In a $3,000 study of vocational training courses preferred by College of Marin freshmen and Marin high school seniors planning to go there for vocational training, these occupations came out on top:

Law enforcement, automotive mechanic, architectural engineering technology, secretary, office worker, registered nurse, and dental assistant.

Because of the report, written by Dr. George Ebey, Palo

Alto research consultant, the college will start a program for dental assistant training, this fall and add to its business courses.

Dr. Ebey, who said he gained his research material by a series of questionnaires, highlighted these points in the 123-page report:

1. Forty-six per cent of Marin high school seniors plan to attend the college this fall. The percentage ranges from 68 at Sir Francis Drake High School to 12 at Tomales High School.

2. He had to revise his original questionnaire because a pre-test of 25 Redwood High School students revealed they do not know what a "general education" is.

3. Students who study law enforcement, registered nursing, dental assistance, medical secretary or cosmetology will have a relatively easy time finding jobs in the Bay Area.

4. Many jobs remain unfilled because there are not enough well trained workers to fill them, while large numbers of "hardcore" long-term unemployed remain jobless because they have not acquired marketable skills." Ebey emphasized this quote from Marc W. Johnson, area manager for the state Department of Employment.

5. Fifteen per cent of high school senior boys heading for the college prefer law enforcement to other fields. (The college has made a preliminary investigation of starting courses in law enforcement.)

Trustees indicated they would study the report at some length and consider other program additions.

College Teachers Want Raise In Salaries

Teachers at College of Marin made a midnight pitch for better salaries last night, but half the board of trustees walked out before they could start.

Obviously impatient to go home, Mrs. Elizabeth M. Deedy, one of two trustees who stayed to hear the salary committee, said flatly: "If the board makes a decision to alter any salary prior to July 1 (end of the fiscal year), I will submit my resignation, it would be a breach of faith with the public."

"We have held up our end of the deal," said Charles Willis of the college industrial department, committee chairman, referring to an agreement that salary discussions be put aside until passage of the college district's tax increase.

"Now there has to be some indication from the board if our requests are justifiable."

The committee, contending that Reed Elementary and Tamalpais High School Districts pay higher salaries than does the college, asked an increase of $200 for maximum steps for teachers with and without a doctorate degree. The hike would boost the maximum to $11,480. Minimum would remain at $5,400.

Fuchsia Clubs To Hold Potluck

Members of the Marin Branch of the American Fuchsia Club are invited to a club picnic and potluck dinner at noon Sunday in Griffith Woods, located on Laguna Road approximately five miles northwest of Sebastopol.

The picnic is sponsored by the Sebastopol Branch of the American Fuchsia Club. Guidance to the picnic grounds can be gotten by stopping at the club meeting place in the Veterans Memorial Building in Sebastopol.

Plaques Surprise For 2 Graduates

Awarding of plaques by two San Rafael service clubs to outstanding boy and girl graduate from Davidson Junior High School highlighted graduation exercises of the school at Albert Field last night.

The recipients had no advance knowledge of their selection for the awards.

The San Rafael Elks Lodge plaque for outstanding girl graduate went to Janice Ahern daughter of Dr. and Mrs. I. K. Ahern of 154 Glen Park Avenue.

The Optimist Club plaque for outstanding boy in graduating class was awarded to Jeffrey Padgett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray A. Padgett of 3 Redding Way.

COLLEGE NEEDS MORE COOKS TO STIR POT

The home economics department at the College of Marin needs students more than pots and pans, the college board of trustees learned last night.

In its annual report, the department said kitchen equipment should be replaced but continued: "The most pressing need . . . is for more students."

"It is difficult to understand why more girls do not take home economics when one considers that more than 95 per cent of them will become homemakers within the next few years."

The department suggested that counselors steer more girls its way.

Trustees said they would look into the entire home-making program.

An eight-day Goose Fair is held every October in Nottingham, England. The custom was established in 1283.

Youths Suspected In Hub House Fire

Juveniles are suspected of starting the second fire in two weeks at 27 Lansdale Avenue in San Anselmo, Police Chief Raymond R. Buchignani reported today.

A high school student, whom police did not identify, reported he saw three boys running about a block from the fire immediately after an alarm had sounded Wednesday evening. The youth told police he asked the boys where they were going but they sped past him without answering.

Buchignani said the youth accompanied police to several San Anselmo public schools yesterday in a fruitless attempt to find the boys. The chief said investigation was continuing today.

The fire swept through the home owned by Mrs. Sybil Marsten, 70, about 5 p.m., burning some furniture, papers and magazines stored in the basement. The property had been salvaged from the first fire the night of May 28.

Both fires threatened the home of Mrs. B. H. Roarty of 29 Lansdale Avenue, and both times she credited San Anselmo firemen with saving her home. The cause of the first fire is still undetermined.

Courtship and Marriage.

Analysis of the Individual.

Two Youths Hurt In Gulch Plunge

Two Novato youths were hurt early today when a trip to Stinson Beach ended two miles north of there as their car rolled 500 feet down into Green Gulch.

Lawrence W. Smith, 19, of 4 Lauren Drive, told the California Highway Patrol he was driving in light rain with fogged windows at 12:45 a.m. when he went off the Shoreline Highway so abruptly that he had no time to brake.

He was in satisfactory condition at Marin General Hospital today with head cuts, a bruised back and possibly fractured ribs. His companion, William Konn Ruff, 17, of 1120 Ferris Drive, was treated at the same hospital for a cut scalp and right forearm and transferred to Hamilton Air Force Base Hospital.

Coroner Budget Passes; Behr Objects

Tentative approval of a $23,389 budget for Marin County Coroner Frank J. Keaton was given by the board of supervisors yesterday despite the protests of Supervisor Peter H. Behr.

Behr insisted the board should have assurances that Keaton will "abide by our directive of no conflict of interest" before approving the budget.

Policy adopted by the board directed that "assignment of any coroner's case to a business establishment in which the coroner himself has an interest is a conflict of interest." Keaton operates Keaton's Mortuary in San Rafael.

Keaton told Behr he hadn't yet "fully resolved all problems with my attorney."

"We have increased his salary on the assumption he will not use his own funeral parlors, and he says he will use them anyway," Behr said.

Keaton said he would put the salary in a bank while the conflict of interest is settled and meanwhile Behr may "follow me around to see what I do."

"I have better things to do than follow you around," Behr replied. He cast a "no" vote against the coroner's budget, explaining there was nothing wrong with the budget, but "we should first have a statement from Keaton as to whether he's going along with our policy."

In action on a $80,803 budget for the county recorder, Supervisor William A. Gness joined Behr in a "no" vote to include $4,812 for salary of an extra typist-clerk.

County Administrator Alan Bruce recommended exclusion of the increase, but County Recorder Noel Thomas Giacomini pleaded with the board, saying he must have extra help and hadn't asked for any in 12 years.

Bruce said the new job could be delayed until a study of possible microfilming for the recorder's documents is completed. Such microfilming might save money, Bruce said, adding that a California Taxpayers' Assn. report shows the Marin recorder's office costs nearly twice as much to operate as offices in similar counties.

Giacomini said high costs resulted because his office does "so much work for other county departments."

Behr and Gness agreed with Bruce's recommendation for deferral of the new job, but its inclusion in the tentative budget was approved by a 3-to-2 vote.

According to the Florida Alcoholic Rehabilitation Program, the occurrence of blackouts, or memory lapses caused by alcohol, is an early sign of alcoholism.

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

Marin Restaurants Good Places For Dining Out On Father's Day

Not quite as much is made of Father's Day by the restaurants as Mother's Day. Dad usually picks up the check anyway and probably feels if he's going out for dinner he may as well pick his own time.

One way, of course, is to save enough out of the household food money and tell him it isn't costing him a cent. No need to add how you may resolve the home menu for the rest of the week.

But restaurants — most of them — will be open Sunday, and whatever it takes to get him to don coat and tie may be more appreciated once he's eaten his way through three courses.

YOU MIGHT steer him to the Blue Rock Inn, Larkspur — and while there congratulate Bob and Pat Hosmer on their second anniversary at the place.

Food and service have been maintained at high level — in keeping with Blue Rock traditions.

SOMETHING OLD — something new. The liquor and liqueur collection at Galli's. We have mentioned it before, but if dad hasn't seen it, the trip is worth while.

Oldtimers on the shelves date back to his grandfather's day. Current potions are as varied and mellow as the colors of leaves in the autumn. Let Frank Galli diagnose dad's taste preference and prescribe accordingly.

AND AT NOVATO JOE'S, Benny Paris is featuring a special $2.95 dinner Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays — a 13-ounce steak, with soup and salad.

THOSE DELICIOUS SALADS at San Rafael Joe's can be credited to Maria Nakicki. Hector Rubini says she puts more in their making than the call of duty requires. She's a wiz at everything from mixed greens with seafood to a Green Goddess or Caesar.

And at Joe's we'd suggest the Chicken a la Vecchia Usanza served en casserole with Parisienne potatoes, hearts of artichokes, button mushrooms and fresh zucchini. Just a touch of pepper. That flavor comes from a final saute in Madeira wine.

Oh-oh, we forgot. Closed Sundays. Make it some other day then.

TOO LATE for Western Weekend in Novato, Tomahawk Lodge won't be tied together for an opening until the middle or end of next week. It has to be at that time — banquet commitments.

Two well-knowns will handle the restaurant and cocktail lounge and bar — Don Giovannoni and Dante Pareglio.

Don, excellent at the ranges, is not only highly regarded by anyone sampling his food but by other cooks as well. He's been at several Marin spots, but this gives him a chance on his own.

Look for the menus here — breakfast, lunch and dinner — to feature a variety of Indian names in keeping with Tomahawk Lodge and its decor. A wampum special will be on the breakfast. What usually goes as Joe's special becomes a tee-pee special. Don has always been known for his beef brochettes; will feature that and prawn brochettes. Another is breast of turkey a la totem pole, en casserole.

Dante most recently has been handling the bar at Novato Joe's. He formerly was part owner of Brick Lodge, San Rafael, and previously one of the principals at Marin Joe's.

DON'T LOOK for Kirby Atterbury's Caprice in Tiburon to be ready for all comers much before the first of July. Finishing touches are now in progress.

SABELLA'S is now specializing in wedding receptions and showers — sometimes has as many as three a day, but there is plenty of room. Talk to Jo Nelson, banquet manager, about it. She will arrange complete details.

SALLY'S VALHALLA INN is available for group lunches, and banquets on Monday nights. Good for large gatherings. A guarantee of 100 required. Sausalito Chamber of Commerce had a big affair there last Monday.

IF YOU can carry it in your mind for a week, the Office in Mill Valley is offering a Tuesday night spaghetti feed at 50 cents a head, twice a month. Bill and Connie are turning the proceeds over to individual charity groups. Next one is June 26 at 8:30 p.m.

Spaghetti, salad, garlic bread — and pianist and accordionist come in to liven things up a la Napoli.

Firefighter Position Open At Hamilton Base

Applications are being taken for firefighter (general) a civil service job at Hamilton Air Force Base, which pays $4,345 a year.

Application forms can be obtained from the office of the Army and Air Force Board of Examiners, room 109, 180 Montgomery Street, San Francisco.

WINE CORNER

Bordeaux Historic, Modern Wine Capitol

Wherever oenophiles tip their glasses, Bordeaux wines are famous and treated with affection.

Back in the middle ages, Bordeaux was actually the wine capital of the civilized world. From it came claret, still a great favorite in Great Britain.

The sanitary, tonic and even medicinal properties of Bordeaux wines have been praised because of the high proportion of their iron salts and tannin. They have been widely hailed as "milk for the aged."

The red wines may be classed as follows: Medoc, Graves, Saint-Emilion, Pomerol, Cotes de Fronsac, Bourg, Blaye and Entre-deux-Mers. Medoc wines are probably the most widely known — for their color, flavor and delicacy. The very best growths are classified as Chateau Lafite, Chateau Latour and Chateau Margaux.

The white wines, like the reds, offer a wide range of qualities and kinds, from the vintages of Entre-deux-Mers and the Blaye districts to the famous Sauternes and Cérons and Graves which have strength and flavor. Also those of the Grande Cote, Langoiran, Loupae and Sainte-Croix-du-Mont.

on the right bank of the Garonne River.

The Sauternes are best known to us, at least by name, similar to our own California Sauterne. The fine first growth of the Bordeaux Sauternes is Chateau d'Yquem, a connoisseur's choice throughout the world.

The list of the great Bordeaux wines does not end with these names. Many other fine reds and whites are world renowned and Bordeaux exports are probably heavier than ever before.

$400 Scholarship Won By Marinite

Robert Sadler, a 1959 graduate of Sir Francis Drake High School, has won a $400 scholarship from the Bechtel Corporation.

He is maintaining a straight "A" average at the University of California at Berkeley where he is majoring in engineering. He has just completed his junior year.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Sadler, 76 Almenar Drive, Greenbrae.

Box Of Big Dolls Found, Returned

A case of Toodle-oo Dolls was found under the bridge behind Jolly Stores Wednesday night by two girls, Mrs. Robert Belton of 268 Sycamore Avenue told Mill Valley police.

She said her daughter, Cheryl, 13, and a friend, Linda Carter, found the six big blonde dolls unharmed in a four by four foot case.

Police checked with Santa's Toys at 419 Miller Avenue and learned from owner Henry Wolfe he was missing a case in a shipment which came that day. He said the box may have dropped from the truck on delivery and added "both girls will get a reward for their honesty."

Woman Gets Reminder

BALTIMORE (AP) — As a couple passed the gaping excavation for the new Civic Center, the woman said to the man: "That reminds me. You never did dig up the dahlia bulbs."

Teachers To Take Leaves Overseas

The College of Marin has granted leaves of absence to five teachers who next year will live overseas and teach, write textbooks or do research.

Dr. and Mrs. George H. Ball plan to live in France, where they will gather material for a book to be called "Second Year College French," to be published by Harper Bros. of New York. They will also take advanced language studies in French, Spanish and German.

Dr. Cornelius Weber will live in Italy and work on a book on the history of philosophy. John Macauley of the business department will travel to Australia to study methods of teaching business. James Heig of the English department will do exchange teaching in Germany under a Fulbright Grant.

Drunken Drivers Draw Sentences

Mrs. Marjorie Allison Hall McPike, 42, of 175 Nova Albion Way, San Rafael, must pay $149 fine and remain on supervised probation for two years.

Judge Harold J. Haley sentenced her for driving while intoxicated on Lincoln Avenue in San Rafael on April 30.

Paul V. Murphy, 33, of 318 Third Street, Sausalito, drew $139 fine and six months probation. Murphy was sentenced by Judge David R. Baty for driving while intoxicated May 8 on Highway 101.

Sanitary Board Votes To Include Boats Under Sewer Regulations

Sausalito - Marin City Sanitary directors agreed Wednesday in principle to include "non-transient vessels" in their regulations.

Previously not covered by rules, according to Chairman Loren L. Jay, the classification will not be adopted until it is reviewed with the city of Sausalito, the County Health Department, Board of Supervisors and the Water Pollution Control Board.

The matter arose over the problem of sewage discharge by arks and barges into Richardson Bay at Waldo Point and Sausalito. An ordinance, opposed by the Marin Boat Dwellers Assn., is before the Board of Supervisors to regulate hookups to sewers.

"We are not trying to give the impression of encouraging or discouraging people from living on waterfront structure by this action," Jay said.

Language of "non transient vessels" is still to be threshed out, Jay continued. He said it takes in, in general, the amount of time a vessel is permanently attached to the shore or to some structure as well as length of time of a vessel's occupancy as a residence.

In other action the board came to an agreement with the Albert-Lovett Corp. as to the firm's encroachment by its South Street apartments on the District's right-of-way. An encroachment was recognized, Jay said. He added that Albert-Lovett has agreed to pay $8,500 in settlement for any present or possible future damage the district may suffer from the buildings built over the sewer line access. The firm also agreed to give a right-of-way for any future district construction.

Pollution Board Agenda Has Two Marin Matters

Two Marin County items are scheduled for consideration at the June 21 meeting of the Regional Water Pollution Control Board in Oakland.

One will comprise a staff report on untreated waste discharges from moored barges and arks in the Sausalito area, pursuant to a water pollution board directive of May 17.

It had been hoped that the county last month would adopt an ordinance which the City of Sausalito might use as a model for uniform enforcement of a permit system in both unincorporated and incorporated areas. But the riverside dwellers staged a surprise counter-attack and won delay on their assurance that they were about to become part of the Sausalito sanitary district, with sewer connections.

Supervisors Tuesday indicated satisfaction with progress and deferred action on the ordinance.

In another agenda item the water pollution board slated for consideration problems of waste discharges of the San Rafael Meadows County Sewer Maintenance District and the Gallinas Village Community Services District.

The board will consider requesting both to file schedules for compliance with requirements and a tentative motion has been drafted. It is designed to force a decision whether to annex to Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District, which has facilities the board considers satisfactory, or continue independent service under conditions the board will find proper.

College Culinary Skill Brings $100,000 'Tip'

One of the classic dining re-pasts of the year is held in May at City College in San Francisco, when students in the hotel and restaurant department demonstrate their skills. Restauranters and others fortunate enough to be invited look forward to it.

Several years ago a visitor from New York ate just such a meal. This week, the students, the department and the school got their tip—a check for $100,000.

The gift was from Mrs. Ellsworth M. Statler, widow of the famous hotelman.

The money will be used to help construct a two-story building, housing a culinary arts library, food laboratory, kitchen and study hall.

San Francisco added $50,000, the school board $162,500 from school bond money and the state $37,500.

Disc-Jockey Colvig Idle, Sues Radio

Radio disc-jockey Robert Colvig of Sausalito complained in a lawsuit filed yesterday he is being paid $15,000 a year for doing nothing.

He was fired from San Francisco radio station KFRC last January after the stabbed body of the newborn child of 22-year-old model Antoinette (Toni) Wahlen was found in a garbage can outside Colvig's apartment at 121 South Street.

Colvig was reinstated in May after union arbitration. But now the radio station doesn't give him anything to do, contends the lawsuit, filed in San Francisco Superior Court.

"They won't let him use the microphone. A man has the right not just to be paid, but also to practice his profession," Colvig's union, the San Francisco local of the AFL-CIO American Federation of Television and Radio Artists, states in the complaint.

The union asks the court to order a stop of Colvig's enforced idleness.

Colvig, 44, admitted in Marin court hearings that he had been intimate with Miss Wahlen and that she was in his apartment when she gave birth to the baby.

Miss Wahlen admitted stabbing the baby 17 times and dumping its body in the garbage can. Three court-appointed psychiatrists declared her insane at the time of the stabbing, and she was committed for treatment at Langley Porter Clinic in San Francisco.

Sheriff's Aides Pay Raise In Works

Sheriff Louis P. Montanos was successful yesterday in winning a $40,812-a-year across the board pay increase in preliminary budget for everybody from 36 deputies to the under-sheriff.

The package was voted 4-1 by Marin County supervisors despite Supervisor Peter Behr's urging support for a "let's check against other departments" letter by Administrator Alan Bruce.

Angry words by some of the supervisors featured concluding minutes before approval, with George Ludy insisting that Bruce was playing an anti-Montanos game but "not going to get away with it."

Behr temperately declared himself in favor not only of these but of other raises. But he pleaded that proper procedure would be to hold the salary line while checking over all consequences in other departments.

Montanos took no exception to Bruce's effort to bring further consideration. "He is only trying to see the overall county employee picture," said the sheriff. But Ludy who broke in at an early stage of the reading of Bruce's letter and seemed unwilling to hear the rest.

Seconding Ludy's motion to approve the list as compiled by the sheriff, Supervisor William D. Fusselman stipulated that he did so on the understanding that he wished to consider all departments in the same way, with special regard for lower-paid personnel, before final decision.

"It would be cowardly," said Fusselman. "If we didn't face up to the fact that perhaps all employees aren't well paid. But this is a critical department."

Montanos made his apparently most telling point in saying that with prevailing low pay, his department sometimes gets "bad publicity" by having to take men "who shouldn't have been police officers in the first place. It's a tragedy."

Asst. Auditor Michael Mitchell listed the raises as follows:

Thirty-six deputy sheriff's receiving a total increase of $31,104 a year, 14 sergeants and inspectors totaling $4,704, one lieutenant, one chief criminal deputy and one civil deputy at $720 each, one supervisor of identification and records at $1,056, one chief jailer at $1,368 and one under-sheriff at $420.

Further consideration, it was indicated, will be given the question of providing the sheriff with a boat budgeted at $29,000. This involves change in relations with the volunteer marine patrol.

With little discussion the board approved a budget for the sealer of weights and measures, deleting a $7,200 item.

Farm advisor Winston L. Engvall also won easy approval but warned that delay in moving to the civic center is going to make him run up additional rent and telephone bills. Bruce said many others will be in the same fix.

College Trustees Order Scrubbed, Repainted Buildings This Summer

Trustees of College of Marin don't want any "freeheeling expressionism" when the school is scrubbed, buffed and repainted this summer.

Expressing gratitude to the voters for boosting the junior college district's tax rate, the board last night discussed summer plans to replace doors, repair windows and paint buildings with Theodore Stolte of the school's architectural firm, Falk and Booth of San Francisco.

Observing that the board has an even greater responsibility to the public since passing on the tax hike, Mrs. Elizabeth M. Deedy, clerk, requested a complete color scheme from the firm's color consultant before the spruce-up job is approved. Stolte estimated a contractor could be on the job by August. First repairs would be painting and installation of lights in the library room.

The Marin Junior College District board also:

1. Hired Donald E. Griffin of San Jose, to teach business at $6,000 a year; Armand Cello of San Francisco, reading, $7,800, and Miss Beverly J. Harling of Concord, Spanish, $8,600.
2. Hired Walter Harvey to replace Gordon Monema as part-time night watchman at $2 per hour.
3. Appointed Leonard Blomquist as humanities division chairman while Dr. George Ball is on sabbatical leave in Europe next year; appointed George Duncan head of the foreign language department in Dr. Ball's absence.

4. Agreed to continue for a year a system by which teachers write individual reports on yearly academic activity, which are then considered for salary raises.

5. Carried over to the next meeting a report from the curriculum committee on revision of requirements for graduation.

Hub Council Grants Raises, Struggles To Hold Tax Line

Sequoia Drive and Red Hill Avenue.

This left the council still $4,355 over Flautt's tentative budget total of $621,975, which the administrator announced would necessitate a 2½-cent increase in the tax rate.

Sharpening his pencil again, Flautt went over his estimates of revenues and announced, "I think we can absorb it." He said he thought his prediction of property valuations was conservative enough to cover the difference.

Buchignani sat by quietly as the council deleted his extra policeman. Mayor John M. Reichmuth asked the chief if he could get along without the extra man.

"If I'm given a choice of having another man or getting a pay raise to keep the ones I've got, I'll go along with the pay raise," replied Buchignani.

In the vote on the pay increase motion, which was made by Councilman Arthur W. Smith and seconded by Councilman Woodrow V. Capurro, "no" votes were cast by Councilman William Franchini and Robert E. Rouse.

Franchini opposed a 5 per cent raise. He said he would go along with 2½ per cent because he wanted no tax increase.

Franchini said the city employees never become dissatisfied with their salaries until surrounding cities start granting raises at budget time.

"They took the exams and they knew what the salary was," he said. "If they didn't like the salary, they shouldn't have taken the job."

"If we go for $18,000 in employees' raises, I'm going to fight for these traffic lights," announced Rouse in voting.

"no." During the discussions, however, he said he favored the 5 per cent pay raise even at the cost of raising taxes.

In rejecting the requesting increase of retirement benefits for the city's 16 "miscellaneous" employees, the council

Injunctions Continued Against Three Firms

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — An injunction against three contractors who signed agreements with striking unions in the Northern California construction dispute was continued yesterday until next Thursday.

The injunction was kept in effect for another week by Superior Judge Byron Arnold. As a result the three firms, members of the Associated General Contractors will not be able to resume work until after next week's hearings.

cil unanimously voted, on Franchini's motion, to call in a representative of the State Retirement System to make an actuary study and determine the costs.

Although Flautt estimated the extra benefits would cost the city $4,500 in the 1962-63 budget, he couldn't guarantee it, he said, without an actuary study. This would take 16 weeks, he added.

The budget does not include any capital expenditures for streets, Flautt said this is because the pending San Anselmo Town Center Plan, upon which a citizens' committee and hired consultants have been working, probably will contain recommendations for street changes.

Street work to be financed from state gasoline tax apportionments will be added later, said Flautt.

'Gene The Machine' Tough Man In Defense Of Title

By LEO H. PETERSEN
OAKMONT, Pa., (UPI) — They set out in pursuit of little Gene Littler in the second round of the U. S. Open Golf championship today and everybody agreed that the mechanical man would take a lot of catching.

The silent, sandy-haired Californian, known to his fellow pros as "Gene the Machine", had only played 27 "sloppy" practice holes over awesome Oakmont Country Club. But he went out there and shot a two under par 35-34—69 which put him on the head end by one shot.

At his heels—one blow back—came Bobby Nichols, a 26-year-old Kentuckian playing out of Midland, Tex., and bespectacled Bob Rosburg, the P. G. A. champion from Portland, Ore.

And two strokes away was a surging sixsome headed by Arnold Palmer, the 5 to 1 pre-tournament favorite. Palmer's finger, gashed Sunday night, wasn't bothering him "at all" but his putting was as he carded a 36-35—71.

Palmer was laboring until he put on one of his patented stretch runs, running off a strong five straight threes—including three birdies on the final five holes—to get back into a challenging position.

All square with golf's leading money winner were South African Gary Player, who moaned the putting blues, too, as he tried to become the first foreign winner in 42 years; veteran Billy Maxwell; Bob Schoener of Bethlehem, Pa.; Frank Boynton of Corpus Christi, Tex., and J. C. Goosie of Largo, Fla., who three-putted twice in bogeying the last three holes.

Pudgy Jack Nicklaus, the two-time amateur king from Ohio State, had it running strong for him as he started off with three birdies while playing with Palmer. But then he faded, winding up with a 37-35—72 which deadlocked him at even par with Canada's Stan Leonard and a pair of amateurs—Gene Francis, former Purdue player from New York, and John Guenther of Reading, Pa.

There were more than a dozen of them still dangerous at 73, including such as Bo Wininger, Al Balding, Don Whitt, Paul Harney and Wes Ellis. And at the crowded 74 figure the pack had such as former champion Cary Middlecoff, Doug Sanders of the short backswing and the long threat, and cocky Phil Rodgers. The San Diego redhead who could have been right there except for an eight on the 17th hole—where he took four blows to knock the ball out of a fire tree—to destroy a one under par effort.

It was a heart-breaking first day, one of sudden showers and a record opening day gallery of 17,837 spectators for Slammin' Sammy Snead. Still optimistic at 50, the sweet swinger who four times has finished second in the only one which has eluded him, took 76 whacks at the ball before he disgustedly called it a day after scatter-gunning his approach shots.

Littler was jubilant after his round, speaking out with an unaccustomed ease and calling the start of his title defense "a real shot in the arm."

"My putting was beautiful," Littler grinned. "And I missed only three fairways on the whole round. If I could only keep that up, I'd sure be happy."

Littler undoubtedly had retained the touch which gave him the $25,000 first prize in the Thunderbird Open only last Sunday. And it was bad news for his rivals as the little Californian attempted to join Bobby Jones, Ben Hogan, Ralph Guldahl and ancient Willie Anderson as the only back-to-back open winners.

PIERCE IS SPIKED—San Francisco hurler Billy Pierce lies on a training table at Crosley Field and gets first aid after being spiked behind the right ankle bone on a play at first base last night against the Cincinnati Reds. Bandaging the ankle is Dr. George Ballou, Cincinnati team physician. It took 12 stitches to close the wound. (AP Wirephoto)

S.F. Opens Make Or Break Home Series

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The San Francisco Giants gratefully stagger home tonight to play nearly one-third of their 1962 Candlestick Park schedule in a three-week stretch that should make or break their flag bid.

Lefty Billy O'Dell, victimized by a ninth-inning St. Louis home run Sunday, will face the Cardinals and Ray Sadecki (3-3). O'Dell is 7-4 but has pitched nine innings only once in the past month.

The Giants finished a rocky road trip by losing to Cincinnati 8-0 last night and losing a pitcher in the process.

Billy Pierce (8-2) was spiked behind his right ankle covering first base in the first inning. Twelve stitches were needed to close the wound. Pierce is expected to be out 12 days, costing him one start.

Former Giant Don Blasingame stepped on Pierce's foot while running out a grounder behind first.

Four other pitchers could not stop the Reds. But the Reds' Joey Jay (9-6) duplicated Bob Purkey's three-hit shut out of Wednesday.

Frank Robinson's three-run homer sparked the Reds' attack. The loss sent the Giants home with a 9-9 record on the 16-day road trip, eight defeats in their last 10 games and two lengths to make up on league-leading Los Angeles.

Manager Alvin Dark says his team must win 17 of the upcoming 23 home games and his estimate seems accurate. For after this string San Francisco will have only four short home stands totaling 29 games the rest of the season but must play away 45 times.

Independent Journal Sports
June 15, 1962 13

Actually, Dark's 17-6 target isn't as good as the 23-6 Candlestick Park record the Giants rolled up in April and May. But with hitters not hitting, ineffective relief pitching and starters unable to finish, the target could be elusive.

Every team in the league except Pittsburgh and Chicago will come to San Francisco during this stand, with the final four games against the Dodgers.

St. Louis will play three games, Houston two, Milwaukee three, Cincinnati three, Philadelphia four and New York four.

BOCCABELLA NAMED ON ALL-AMERICAN SQUAD

American Association of Baseball Coaches yesterday selected John Boccabella of San Anselmo on the second team of its 1962 All-American college baseball squad.

Boccabella, slugging first baseman for Santa Clara University, was one of three Broncos honored. Shortstop Ernie Fazio was named on the first team and pitcher Bob Garibaldi on the second team.

During Santa Clara's regular season of 36 games Boccabella batted .388, with 14 doubles, 6 triples and 10 home runs included in his 57 hits.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Boccabella of 317 Greenfield Avenue.

Broncos Romp To NCAA Playoffs

OMAHA, Neb. (UPI) — Santa Clara's Broncos avenged their opening round defeat in the NCAA Baseball Tournament yesterday by whipping an erroring Florida State nine, 11-6.

The Broncos will take on Texas tonight in a playoff game. The winner will be pitted against Michigan, who drew the bye for tonight's action, in the championship game tomorrow.

Pete Magrini (8-5) will hurl for Santa Clara and Charlie Hartenstein (6-1) will pitch for the Texans.

Florida State donated eight errors to help Santa Clara run up the score in last night's game. The Broncos' biggest inning, the five-run second, did not include an earned run.

Two more unearned runs in the third inning provided enough margin to win the game. But Santa Clara scored three on five hits, including a triple by Tim Cullen and a fourth and another run in the fifth.

Florida State Coach Danny

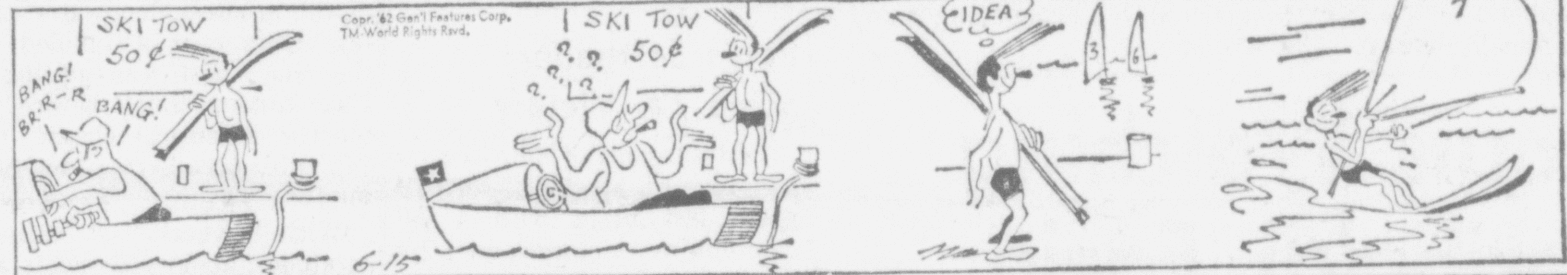

Litwhiler called on a half-dozen pitchers and wound up the game with his second baseman, Al Beccaccio, on the mound.

double by Ken Flanagan, in the John Boccabella of San Anselmo, first sacker for the Santa Clarans, hit a double in five trips to the plate. It was his third double since the tournament began.

Michigan lost its first tournament game last night as they were turned back by Texas, 7-0.

LITTLE SPORT

N.L. Race Tightens

By ASSOCIATED PRESS
There's rumbling in the ranks of the National League—the boys in the back room are showing signs of life.

The Los Angeles Dodgers and San Francisco Giants had been threatening to run away and hide from the rest of the league, but it's beginning to look as if the other boys have found them.

The Cincinnati Reds hung a second straight three-hit shut-out on the ordinarily potent Giants last night 8-0. And the Milwaukee Braves shoved the Dodgers around 7-1, as Bob Shaw won his eighth.

The defeats left the Dodgers two games on top over the Giants. The revitalized Pittsburgh Pirates won their sixth straight, 6-3 over the Chicago Cubs, to close to within 6½ games of the lead.

The Cincinnati triumph pushed the defending champions into a fourth place tie, 7½ away, with the St. Louis Cardinals, idle yesterday but winners of nine of their last 10. Philadelphia also was idle. The Houston Colts battered their fellow freshmen in the league, the New York Mets, 10-2.

In the American League, the Minnesota Twins moved to within three percentage points of the first place New York Yankees, beating the Los Angeles Angels 5-4. Washington clipped Cleveland 4-3, the Baltimore Orioles took the Boston Red Sox 7-4 and the Kansas City Athletics humbled the Chicago White Sox 11-8. Detroit and New York were not scheduled.

Shaw (8-2) gave the Dodgers only six hits. His mates got him five runs in the first inning off Stan Williams (6-3). Henry Aaron hammered his 12th homer.

The Pittsburgh Pirates jumped off for two runs in the first, saw the Cubs tie on homers by Billy Williams and Ron Santo, and then went out of reach when Don Hoak hit a three-run homer in the fifth.

Bob Friend (7-7) went the route for the Pirates. Dick Ellsworth (4-0) got the loss.

Houston manhandled the Mets for seven runs in the first inning, including Carl Warwick's home run, and coasted to a 10-2 victory. Jay Hook (4-7) faced six batters without getting any out before departing. Bob Bruce (5-1) went all the way for the Colts.

ALONG MARIN'S SPORTS TRAIL

By JIM GILMARTIN

Mays May Set Home Run Record With A Non-Championship Club

One week from today Willie Mays will visit San Rafael to help open a sporting goods store.

Willie Mays, you know, is the baseball player who, among other talents on a diamond, is hitting home runs at a very rapid pace. In fact, he might become the first man in history to hit 60 or more home runs in a season with a non-championship team.

Babe Ruth and Roger Maris have hit like 60, but they did it with championship teams. If Mays hits 60, an asterisk will be placed in the record book to show he did it with a second place club. Unless, the Giants trade him to the Dodgers.

Anyway, Mays will appear at Stan's Sporting Goods Store at Third and Grand, formerly Marin Bowl. As this is a commercial deal, I imagine Stan Goldsmith is paying a pretty penny for Willie's appearance. And why not? The San Rafael merchant stands to attract a whopping audience onto his premises, particularly little ball players who need all kinds of sports equipment and Stan will just happen to have plenty in stock.

Walter Mails says he'll accompany Willie on his 12 noon to 2 p.m. visit so the flashy Giant outfielder won't get lost. "Willie's wonderful with kids," said Mails. "He'll autograph anything the kids hand him, including photos, baseballs, scorecards, bats and even leg casts."

Willie also will give some tips on the finer points of the game.

MEADOW CLUB will be the scene of some fine golfing on Sunday, June 24 when 13 sharpshooters will attempt to qualify for the California Amateur Championship. The Meadow has been selected as qualifying site for the North Bay area.

Entered in the Fairfax test and their handicaps are George Kerrigan (5), Nels Cullenward (7), Gregg Johnson (6), Murray Smith (5), C. Jack Wood (7), Chet Patterson (6), Paul O'Pizzi (10), Roger Pearson Jr. (8), Byron Dickson (9), H. C. Garnett (11), Frank Tafoa Jr. (11), E. P. Edgar (9) and Bertil Cane-man (13).

A glance at other qualifying entries throughout the state shows Tom Dixon, the United Markets meat buyer, shooting at Presidio Club and Al Sals Jr., San Rafael High grad, entered at Richmond. Dixon plays to a two handicap, Sals to four.

MAN NAMED Loren Jones was an office visitor the other day, pointing with pride that California is doing more than its share of supporting major league baseball.

With the help of an adding machine, Jones discovered the state's three teams drew a total of 1,724,217 through the turnstiles as of last week. This is roughly 25 per cent of the major league total of 6,897,838. The fact that all three Cal teams are in the thick of the pennant races may explain why California is doing bristling business, about 10 per cent above average.

I SEE BY our society pages that Jack Sparrow, former Novato High grid star, will be married Aug. 26 to Judith Koehler.

Remember when Sparrow, and his sub quarterback Jud Bird, gave Novato quite an aerial attack?

Old Friends And Old Memories; An Old Timers Day Coming Up

There wasn't a dry eye in the house. The oldtimer was "Shine" Scott, the Negro trainer of the Hollywood Stars whose death was the reason for funeral services in a main street Chapel in L.A.

A Negro parson, emotionally moved by the vast number of white people in his dingy church, delivered an eulogy that stirred hard cored newspapermen.

"Ah bless you old timers of baseball who are here today to pay homage to mah fan," the parson said. "He was baseball's oldest, most loyal fan. But he died, not of any ailment but a broken heart. He was, in mah opinion, a victim of retirement."

THE LATE Oscar Reicow, Jack Lelivelt, Bob Cronin, Bobby Ray, Gene Coughlin, Mark Kelly and many other oldtimers who knew "Shine" as trainer for the Old Vernon, Mission and Hollywood Clubs and had enjoyed his whole-some tales, sat hushed and moved.

"Shine," who never knew his age or his birthplace, was a living legend among the oldtimers.

With the help of God and a fast outfield, the next oldtimer affair I'll attend is the coming "Old Timers Day" being staged by the S.F. Giants and to be celebrated at Candlestick Park on Saturday, Aug. 4.

"Be sure and be there," Walter Mails of the Giants' speaking bureau advised me yesterday. "It'll be like old home week for you."

And that it will be, just like shaking hands with an old mormon's glove. Seeing fellows like Paul Waner, Earl Averill, Roy Johnson, Smead Jolly, Willie Kamm, Dutch Ruether, Lefty Gomez, Jigger Statz and the Di Maggio trio of Joe, Dom and Vince.

WHAT HAPPY MEMORIES those names bring back.

I remember them all as beginners and as stars.

Lefty O'Doul, Ernie Lombardi, Eddie Joost, Johnny Vrege, Augie Galan, Joe Orenge, Babe Pinelli, Sammy Bohne, Curt Davis and Hollis Thurston will be there also. We see those fellows regularly at Candlestick Park.

One of the visiting firemen who calls San Francisco his home and who will be here for the occasion is Joe Cronin, president of the American League and a former alumnus of mine from Sacred Heart College.

Joe, likely as not to be the next commissioner of baseball, never played in the Coast League. He went from the Upper Bay Yachting This Week

By ALFRED MATSON

Tomorrow and Sunday the upper reaches of San Francisco Bay will be the scene of considerable yacht racing, a situation created by the Richmond and Berkeley yacht clubs, co-sponsors of their annual Yacht Racing Association regatta.

And to keep the participating sailors ever-alert, the one design classes will do their racing on Saturday and the divisions on Sunday, just opposite to the Corinthian YRA regatta of two weeks ago.

Tomorrow's boat steers, and crews, at least those in the top section of the parade, should be stirring fairly early as the festivities start at 10:30 a.m. The Knarr class will be the starters at that time and NOT the Star class, as indicated in error on the course sheets. In the matter of errors, those racing course 37 should mark well the correction, at the bottom of the course sheet; buoy 14, at the finish line, must be left to port. The starting line is between Mark 14 (near the Southampton Light), and the committee boat, anchored in a southeast position thereto.

On Sunday, the big fellers in Cruising Club "A" will start the action at 11:30 a.m., followed by "B," "C," "D" and divisions 9, 10, 11-12, 14, 15 and 17 at five-minute intervals.

THIS IS THE weekend that the good folk of Clear Lake have been preparing for, and looking forward to, for many a month. It marks the annual invasion of that delightful area by the combined fleets of the Small Boat Racing Assn., at the invitation of the Clear Lake Yacht Club, to participate in a two-day regatta. Actually, the races tomorrow will be more of a tune up nature, although the host club will reward the winners with trophies, but Sunday's contests will be for real with season's points, etc. It should be a worthwhile trip, if only to get some real summer weather. There will be a big dinner dance tomorrow evening at the South Seas Village and many other festivities are planned all for the visiting sailors.

DESPITE NEWS items to the contrary, that has been printed elsewhere, the selection of the boat to defend the Perpetual Cup by the San Francisco Yacht Club has not been made and, according to Race Chairman Dr. Paul de Silva, several more trial races will be held before such a decision can be made.

18-Year-Older Inks With Boston

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Mark (Bucky) Rosen, San Jose athlete who attended Stanford during the past year, has signed a contract with the Boston Red Sox for a "substantial bonus," scout Charley Walgren announced here yesterday.

Rosen, 18, played halfback on the Stanford freshman football team, but did not play baseball.

Walgren said Rosen, a shortstop, had temporarily been assigned to Winston-Salem of the Class B Carolina League.

Scouts Watching Garibaldi, Fazio

OMAHA, Neb. (AP)—There are 53 major league scouts and possibly only three or four future major league ball players at the College World Series.

"But we've got to be here," say the scouts. "We can't afford to miss anyone who might make it."

The hope of signing a future big league star has brought President John McHale of the Milwaukee Braves, General Manager Paul Richards of the Houston Colts, four New York Yankee scouts and representatives of all 20 clubs here for the NCAA Championships.

The scouts say the players in the College World Series with the best chance of making the majors are Bob Garibaldi and Ernie Fazio of Santa Clara, Tom Belcher of Texas and Woody Woodward of Florida State.

Belcher is a senior, Fazio a junior and Woodward and Garibaldi are sophomores. Garibaldi and Belcher are pitchers, Fazio and Woodward shortstops.

Big Six Divorces AAU, Favors NCAA

By JACK HEWINS

VICTORIA, B.C. (AP)—The Athletic Association of Western Universities, which grew from five to six members during its spring meeting here, closed the four-day session yesterday by divorcing the Amateur Athletic Union in three sports.

Representatives of Washington State University, the newest member, sat in on the session.

The association followed 11 other major conferences in endorsement of the National Collegiate Athletic Association's plans for individual sports federations. Then it went a step further to ban, in effect, its athletes from participation in AAU basketball, gymnastic and track and field events.

"Individual or team competition," said the unanimously adopted resolution, "will be restricted to university-scheduled events and federation-sanctioned events in the three sports."

NEW OFFICERS

Dr. Bradford Booth, faculty representative of UCLA, was elected conference president. Charles Taylor, assistant athletic director of Stanford, was named secretary-treasurer and chairman of the administrative committee made up of athletic directors.

The next semi-annual meeting was set for Jan. 2-5 in Pasadena and a special meeting is planned for Seattle this September, with the university presidents attending.

Warner Signpus In S.A. Tomorrow

Boys interested in playing in the Pop Warner Football League can sign up for the San Anselmo Junior Pirates tomorrow between 10 a.m. and noon at the Little League ball park in San Anselmo.

To be eligible, boys must weigh between 80 and 123 pounds and can be no older than 13.

Peri's Softballers Score 7-6 Victory

Peri's Tavern of Fairfax won its fourth straight softball game last night with a 7-6 eight-inning victory over the Kentfield Fire Department.

Although Bob Olive Wilson pitched a one-hitter, a pair of costly base-loaded errors helped the firemen score their round. Peri's will travel Tuesday for a game against Nicasio.

The FISHIN' FOOL

By RALPH STEVENS
IJ Fish and Game Writer

What A Sight For Fishermen! 200,000 Trout Dumped In Lake

Unless plans went awry two sectors of Lake Tahoe witnessed the largest planting of trout ever attempted in the history of California on Tuesday.

Onlookers watched the unloading of 200,000 fish weighing approximately 10,500 pounds being ejected from 10 huge fish tanker trucks. What a sight that must have been, and what a thrill to all piscatorial addicts watching.

This was a joint experimental stunt between the DFG of California and Nevada. An effort to improve sport fishing in the enormous—and beautiful Lake Tahoe, which once was a veritable anglers paradise, especially because of the large Lahontan trout population which supported at one time a famed sport and commercial fishery.

THESE FISH are not the typical catchable fall spawn domestic trout, but fish raised from wild strains—Kamloops rainbows, famed for their gameness when taken on an artificial fly, and the Lahontan cutthroats.

Among the 200,000 wild-strain fish planted were nearly 1,000 large catchable rainbows released at the same time by the Lake Tahoe Fisheries, Inc., a private sportsmen's group.

In the release from the California DFG is a rather curious suggestion—"Therefore, it will be in the best interest of fishermen if they try to avoid catching these fish for the first few weeks they are in the lake; giving them a chance to become established." How naive can our DFG be?

THERE WILL be no objection to your equipping yourself with a long wire line and a drum to winch in the 10-and-20-pound mackinaws many people fish for but few get. The fish just planted are for catching the orthodox way, with fly rod and patience—for sport, not for meat alone. Fishing with a winch and a wire line can hardly be classed as sport.

The planting was scheduled for two locations—one at the Kiva picnic site between Taylor Creek and Richardson Camp off Highway 89 at the south end of the lake, the other at the Wildlife Conservation Board boat ramp near Lake Forest at the north end of the lake.

Because 10 of the F&G's tank trucks were being used for the big plant at Tahoe, the stocking of other waters throughout the state was necessarily curtailed. Many of the streams and lakes slated for restocking will get their trout later instead.

However, plans were made to replenish the supply of catchables in the following waters regardless: They are: MENDOCINO—Cleone Lake; LAKE—Anderson, Big Canyon, Kelsey, and St. Helena Creeks; NAPA—Lake Hennessy sub-impoundment; MONTEREY—Big Sur River; SAN LUIS OBISPO—Lopez Creek.

50-Lapper Will Be BCRA Main Event

A 50-lap Pre-Father's Day sweepstake will be the main attraction of the Bay Cities Racing Association modified stock car races at Vallejo Speedway tomorrow night, and if the nine-event card is anything like last week, an anticipated crowd of 4,000 will witness a rip-roaring show of motor mayhem.

Spins were the rule rather than the exception, and point leader Chet Thomson was flipped in the main event when a rival pilot got a wheel under the Oaklander's racer on the first turn.

With Thomson finishing back in the pack, Santa Rosa's Ray Kelsay picked up eight markers on the pace setter, despite the fact "Ramblin" Ray finished in fifth spot of the main which was won by Gene Dudley, Napa.

If you see a newspaper which looks exactly like the St. Louis Sporting News, you had better look twice.

MARIN SEMI-PRO PROSPECTS

Tiburon Hasn't Been Beat

By RALPH CHATOIAN
If you ask co-manager Ed Vigno about the prospects of his Tiburon Pelican semi-pro baseball club he'll quickly answer "they're the best in the county."

And the Pelican 3-0 record thus far this season will bear out Vigno's claim. They knocked off the San Francisco Red Sox, 12-1, and the San Francisco Indians, 6-1, in their first two outings. Last Sunday they squeezed out a 5-4 victory from the Gino Benedetti nine, also of San Francisco.

Other co-manager for the Pelicans is Charlie Locati.

All Pelican games are on the home field, the reason being strictly financial. The Tiburon club is solely self supporting and does not have a sponsor to help out. The money received for the ball club expenses comes from concessions at the park.

PRIME REASON

It was this prime reason the Pelicans were not able to enter the new Marin Semi-Pro League which started last Sunday. With half their games away from Tiburon, the expenses just couldn't be paid.

But if a sponsor is found, we'll bet the Pelican squad will be a new member of the league next year. And that is what Vigno says, also.

Buzz Wensloff, a right-hander, is one of the Pelicans' three front line hurlers. Wensloff has been playing for the Pelicans since his graduation from Tam High four years ago. Like father, like son, Buzz's dad, Charlie Wensloff, was once a pitcher for the New York Yankees.

Fred De Martini, Pelican southpaw pitcher, was in the Yankee farm chain when he cut his pitching hand and had to step down from pro ball. But the veteran chucker is making himself known to semi-pro batters.

The third Tiburon pitcher is right-handed Mike Cooney who was all-county from Redwood High this past season. Cooney is scheduled to get the starting nod Sunday when the Pelicans take on the San Francisco Jeffersons in Tiburon at 2 p.m.

49er Pair Sign For '62

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Bruce Bosley and Monty Stickles, two veterans of the San Francisco Forty Niners offense brigade, signed their contracts today for the 1962 season.

Bosley, who once announced he was retiring from football because he didn't think that linemen made enough money, became an offensive guard in 1957 and has been there ever since.

Stickles is rated by Coach Red Hickey as one of the most improved players on the Forty Niner squad last season. The former Notre Dame end caught 43 passes in 1961 for 794 yards gained.

Pop Bottle Dress Shapes Shown Under Tricky Capes

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The helpless woman came back into style Wednesday as Pauline Trigere presented the feminine figure, not only as a completely disarming creature, but one completely disarmed.

Although the lovely models demonstrating Miss Trigere's winter collection at her press preview here were not Venuses, many were without arms for defense.

Their upper limbs were bound by capes rounded at the shoulders, clinging tenaciously at the sides, and flaring out slightly at the hemlines. Hands did manage to grope their ways occasionally through slashes high on the cape fronts.

But here were also capes as voluminous as a magician's and just as full of tricks. Some were in big checks, colorful plaids and bold tweeds for blustery daytime use. But others in velvet lined with more velvet sprinkled with rhinestones, or made from broadtail fur, or vivid blue wool or rustling taffetas were meant for night's brightest lights.

Under those bulky capes and skinny capes too. Miss Trigere's models wore spare, sleeveless and beltless dresses shaped like pop bottles. Bustlines were high, waistlines were defined but not fitted, hips curved and slim skirts flared into what is called the trumpet shape.

FASHIONS FEATURED

Wisely, Not How Much Is Secret Of Well Dressed

By NANCY TAYLOR

The secret of being well-dressed is not how much money you have, but how wisely you spend what you have! (Some of the wealthiest women I know are also the most badly dressed.)

The answer lies in relying on simple, unadorned "basic" dresses to form the backbone of your wardrobe.

A basic dress is like a basic recipe—with each new dash of spice, a new dish... with each new accessory, a new costume. This is the dress that allows you to be better dressed on less money.

The basic dress is usually a one-piece model. Generally of classic design, it should be cut on good lines with no distinctive details, must fit perfectly, and should camouflage your figure faults. The "spice" added by your accessories can be as varied and fanciful as you wish—and as inexpensive as you wish.

THIS FORMULA SOUNDS easy to execute, but it isn't. To find the dress which permits this type of transformation often can be a difficult job. Do keep trying, however, as it will be more than worth your time and trouble.

The fabric of a basic dress should be of excellent quality—the best you can afford; perhaps even a bit more than you can afford. (This is the one dress worth saving for.) It should be as wrinkle-proof as possible, and should not stretch. If the material is at all soft, line the back of the skirt. (A non-stretch rayon, such as that used in men's suit jackets, is good for this.) Black, navy blue, and brown are usually the best colors for your basic dress, but you might also consider grey or beige.

A CONVERTIBLE neckline which can be worn high or in a medium V, might be most practical for a daytime basic dress—provided both necklines are becoming to you. Or your choice might be a plain, round neckline—perfect for scarves, jewelry, or extra collars. The sleeves should be long, or at least, just below the elbows. Sometimes a dressmaker suit (one that may be used as a dress as well as a suit) offers many possibilities for variety. In summer, your basic dress may be with lowered neckline and sleeves cropped (or even missing), but it still remains simple and unadorned.

Now to your accessories. The neckline is usually the focal point. A choker of pearls, a rope of gaily-colored beads, a scarf for a jaunty tuck-in, or a decorative ribbon and pin can add a fashionable touch. A pin or flower may be worn either at the waist or neckline for a refreshing detail. Both frilly and tailored collars and cuffs (often made from left-over scraps of material), will give you other new costumes.

AND, OF COURSE, there is the possibility of adding a jacket, a cardigan, or a stole. If your "basic dress" is a dressmaker suit instead of a dress, blouses and a change of jewelry can provide the variety.

Then there is the smartest of all "looks"—the beautifully-cut, but simple, black dress with an absolutely stunning and eye-catching hat. To get away with this look, however, you must make completely certain that not another detail of your costume is "fussy" or in any way detracts from your hat.

Your shoes should be the simplest of pumps, of a soft, dull leather or suede. Your handbag equally as simple, equally as "dull finished," and without a gaudy clasp.

See that your stockings are dark enough to keep the all-of-a-piece look. Sometimes gloves (but be careful here) may match your hat in color. The one other "permissible" color touch for an understated look with such a hat might be your necklace, a beautiful pin, or an interesting bracelet.

Wisely Chosen Antiques Will Keep Their Investment Value

NEW YORK (UPI)—Antiques have investment value as well as aesthetic qualities, if they are bought wisely.

The danger, and it is considerable, lies in whether the buyer gets honest value on the pieces he buys. A non-expert easily can be cheated and frequently is, said Alstair A. Stair, one of New York's most respected antique dealers.

Stair said the best way for non-expert buyer to get full value is to buy from a reputable dealer.

How can you be sure of a dealer's reputation and business ethics?

"Check up on him," advised Stair, a personable, ruddy-faced Englishman whose firm has been in the antique business for 50 years.

STAIR SAID THE most effective ways to check on a dealer's reputation are to learn if he is a member of a well-regarded dealer association, ask about him from persons who have dealt with him previously and even inquire about him at museums, which are big and professional antique buyers.

"In England, an antique dealer is a quite respected businessman," said Stair. "It's like being a professional man—a doctor or lawyer."

But in the United States, he said, antique dealers are the objects of a great deal of severe criticism, much of it for good cause. Some dealers have not played fair with the public and, as a result, the popular image of all of them has been tainted, Stair said.

Stair, whose customers include some of the most prominent members of America's social, business and government circles, said a piece of furniture isn't necessarily an antique just because it's old. "THE WORD 'ANTIQUE' is loosely used," Stair said.

He said many persons classify as antiques objects owned by their grandparents. Chances are they are relics virtually without value.

"We say an antique is something made before 1830," said Stair. He explained that the year 1830 is observed by U.S. Customs as the date of free entry. Goods made prior to that year may be brought into this country without payment of import duty.

"Many things made even as early as 1840 and 1850 were machine-produced," Stair said. "They got away from being objects of art, which basically are hand made."

To Stair, the greatest selling point about antiques is their value as investments. He said an article of modern furniture bought for perhaps $500, would be worth no more than $25 or $50 if resold.

"For a comparable antique, you might have to pay $200 or $300 more," Stair said. "But an antique can be brought back in a week or 10 years and sold or exchanged for its original price."

PALO ALTO will be the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Shellenberger Jr., who were married in San Anselmo. (Milton Mann photo)

Carol Howells Weds John Shellenberger

Carol Jean Howells became the bride of John Shellenberger Jr. in a double ring ceremony at Stewart Memorial Chapel at the San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo on June 9. The Rev. Roy W. Fairchild performed the rite.

The bride, daughter of Harold W. Howells of Ogden, Utah, wore a gown of white embroidered silk organza over satin with a chapel length train.

Mary Latimer of Stockton, the maid of honor, wore a peacock blue sheath dress with overskirt, and bridesmaids Jo-Ellen Wilson of LaHabra and Synhee Lee of Seoul, Korea, were dressed similarly.

The Rev. LeRoy Runquist of Walnut Grove served as best man for the bridegroom, who is a graduate of the San Francisco Theological Seminary. Ushers were Jon Sinclair of Yakima, Wash., Larry Irons of Santa Barbara and Wayne Purinton of Manhattan, Mont.

After the wedding a reception was given at Alexander Hall. After a wedding trip in the Canadian Rockies they will live in Palo Alto.

The bride is a graduate of South High School, Salt Lake City, and Westminster College and holds a master's degree from the seminary.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Shellenberger of Palo Alto, attended Stevens Academy in Hoboken, N.J.; Franklin and Marshall College in Lancaster, Pa., and received his master's degree from Stanford University.

Proper Padding Makes Carpets Last Longer

CHICAGO (UPI)—The proper padding increases carpet durability and cuts noise, home furnishing experts say.

If the cushioning is porous, it's easier for the vacuum to suck up hidden dirt.

The most expensive carpet padding, foam rubber, is the most buoyant material known to man. It is moth-proof, vermin-proof, mildew-proof and porous. It stores neither dampness nor dirt.

Sponge rubber padding, though slightly less expensive than foam rubber, doesn't have foam rubber's natural air conditioning. It isn't porous.

Felted pads are available in all price ranges.

MRS. LEO BERNE

Mrs. Leo Berne Heads Nursery School Group

The San Rafael Cooperative Nursery School will have as its president through the coming year Mrs. Leo James Berne of San Rafael, who has served the past term as treasurer of the organization.

Sue Berne and her husband, who is a salesman, are parents of a 4-year-old daughter, Ellen, and the family has lived in Marin for eight years.

Mrs. Berne believes that her organization can help parents understand more fully parent-child relationships and create an atmosphere where a child can develop happily and at his own rate. The group plans to have parties for the youngsters for all the national holidays, some sales to provide school equipment and an open house in April.

Aside from her nursery school work Mrs. Berne is studying public accounting to become a CPA. She has completed courses in art, bridge piano and sewing, and with her family she enjoys swimming, trips to San Francisco and Lake Tahoe and some occasional trout fishing.

MONEY FOR COLLEGE

Billion In Grants And Loans Now Available For Students

By BENJAMIN FINE and SIDNEY A. EISENBERG

(This is the first of a series of three articles on the high cost of getting into college and rising tuition fees, telling how parents and students can get scholarships or loans.)

The cost of going to college has reached critical proportions. This fall 100,000 of our brightest high school graduates will not be able to afford college. Another 150,000 now in college will not return. Their grades are high, but their funds are low.

Many of this huge army of 250,000 gifted students might be able to go to college if they knew that scholarships and loans were available. More grants are being awarded to students today than ever before. From fewer than $50 million in scholarships a decade ago, the total has jumped to more than $250 million today.

MORE STUDENTS are going to college on-the-cuff than ever before. Some $750 million in federal, state and private loans have been made available to college students. The slogan, "study now, pay later," has become popular. But many qualified students who are eligible for loans, or scholarships, just do not know that they exist.

Here is how tuition has gone up in one year at typical institutions:

	1960-61	1962-63
Columbia	$1,450	$1,575
Princeton	1,450	1,550
Stanford	1,005	1,260
U.S.C.	1,000	1,200
Northwestern	960	1,200

This is just part of the story. Room and board has shot up, as have such incidentals as laboratory fees, general student fees, library assessments and other charges. One has to figure on $10,000 for the four college years in most private colleges or $8,000 in the average state or public institution.

COSTS WILL continue to rise. Colleges complain that even with the high tuition rates they are still far from breaking even. As enrollments increase, costs to the colleges increase.

Tuition pays for approximately 50 per cent of the cost of educating a student. The rest is made up from endowments, from the research grants provided by business or the government, and from private contributions.

To meet this problem, President Kennedy, as he did last year, is sponsoring a federal scholarship bill. Whether it will pass is dubious. But educators backing the bill insist that without some major gain in scholarship aid, 100,000 bright students a year will continue to be denied a college education, and another 150,000 will be forced to drop out each year.

THIS IS WHAT the Kennedy-sponsored scholarship bill proposes:

1. Appropriations for new scholarships of $17,500,000 the first year, $26,250,000 the second and $35,000,000 thereafter.

2. The maximum stipend would be $1,000 for each student, renewable for four years. The program would provide 25,000 Federal scholarships the first year, 37,500 the second and 50,000 new awards in the third and subsequent years.

3. Scholarship recipients would be chosen solely on the basis of scholastic ability as determined by objective tests.

4. Scholarship winners would be free to attend the college of their choice.

A MAJORITY of the American parents are eager to send their children to college. Only a few are able, however, to put aside the $8,000 which the average four-year program costs. And, as tuition increases, still fewer will be able to afford a college education.

What is the solution? A vast network of scholarships and loans is shaping up, both along private and public lines.

Worry Beads Said To Help

NEW YORK (UPI)—Fidget we must.

No new notion, this. In China, for example, it has been the custom for men to roll two pieces of jade in the palms of their hands to settle anxiety.

In the Arab world, a string of beads of varying numbers has been used to fidget away nervous energy for so long that no one really can trace the beginnings.

Now, for contemporary females, there are worry beads. They're the same type used as a sort of psychological crutch in Greece during World War II. Men used them to "fidget with" in cafes.

The worry beads, "komboloy" in Greece and "masbahah" in Arabic countries, consist of a strand of 35 beads.

Coro, jewelry manufacturer introducing the worry beads, suggests that you fiddle with the beads quietly, hand in pocket, or use them to tick off your worries, one per bead—in the open.

In any case, the manufacturer reports the beads help to quiet hands and nerves. At least you can use them to count your troubles.

MR. AND MRS. DONALD H. MULLER

Margaret Louise Thiel Weds Donald Muller Of Kentfield

Sunday afternoon nuptials at Redwoods Presbyterian Church in Larkspur united in marriage Margaret Louise Thiel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell Thiel of Corte Madera, and Donald Harold Muller of Kentfield.

The Rev. Frank S. Hamilton performed the ceremony, for which the bride wore a full length white gown of silk organza and lace ending in a chapel length train.

The bride's sister, Barbara, was maid of honor, wearing a turquoise silk tunic-sheath dress, as were the bridesmaids, Bonnylin Adami of Corte Madera and Joyce Muller of Kentfield, sister of the bridegroom.

Kenneth Madden of San Rafael was best man, and escorting guests to their seats were John Lundberg of Corte Madera and Norman Thiel of Lodi, brother of the bride.

After a reception at San Rafael Improvement Club the couple left on a wedding trip to Carmel and Southern California. The couple will live in Kentfield.

The bride is a graduate of Ganesha High School in Pomona and the College of Marin and is employed by the Tamalpais Union High School District. She is the granddaughter of Mrs. Maude M. Thiel of Corte Madera.

Donald is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold J. Muller and the grandson of Mrs. Annie Muller of Alameda and Ralph A. Ashley of Santa Rosa.

He was graduated from Tamalpais High School in Mill Valley and the College of Marin and served with the Army for two years. He is employed by Muller's General Insurance Agency in Mill Valley.

Junior Theater Unit Plans Two Workshops This Summer

Both a teen-age workshop and a children's workshop in dramatics will be offered this summer by the Belvedere-Tiburon Unit of Marin County Junior Theatre.

Registration dates, announced by the unit president, Mrs. Irving Lipschultz of Belvedere, are June 18, 2 to 4 p.m., Reed School auditorium, for the teen-agers; and June 25, 2 to 4 p.m. in the auditorium for the children under seventh grade. Both summer workshops will be held in the Reed School auditorium for six weeks.

The children's workshop, including youngsters from kindergarten through sixth grade, will be directed by Abby Wasserman of Mill Valley. A senior at San Francisco State College, she has worked extensively with the college drama workshop, and played "Cinderella" in the San Francisco Players Guild.

Don Michaelian, art teacher at Tamalpais High School, will direct the teen-age workshop.

Traditional Gift

The traditional gift of sterling silver flatware from the bride's parents has its origin in the golden age of Greece. In those times, a father was expected to give his daughter at least one-tenth of his property, including silver utensils.

Active in dramatics since he was in college, he has done both professional and amateur acting. He and his wife, Carolyn, an oboist with the Marin Symphony Orchestra, live in Mill Valley with their three daughters.

Church Group To Hear Chamnesses

The Rev. and Mrs. O. Vaughan Chamness, who have recently returned to Marin County after a trip around the world, will speak at a family night dessert Sunday at the Redwoods Presbyterian Church in Larkspur.

The Junior High Department is sponsoring the program, having a special interest in the children of Thailand, where the Chamnesses visited.

Mr. Chamness is an associate professor of Christian education at the San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo. Previously the Chamnesses served for 20 years in Korea, where they developed widely used methods of visual-aid teaching in Christian education.

The evening will begin at 6 p.m. with dessert after which the Chamnesses will speak.

Before you do anything else, give West a medal for his opening lead. If West had led a spade, declarer would have discarded his diamond, thus making sure of the contract.

North's double of four spades and South's flight to five hearts warned West that dummy might have good enough spades to give South a discard. West therefore hastened to take what he could before the discard came through.

South ruffed the next diamond and tried the heart finesse, losing to the singleton king. Declarer later lost the club finesse, and the contract was down.

Learned counsel then presented their arguments.

TRUST PARTNER

"You should always trust your partner," North maintained. "I had four sure tricks against four spades, and we'd have wound up with a profit instead of a loss if you had trusted my double."

"It might have been make against make," South countered. "If you'd held the king of hearts instead of the king of spades, it would have looked like four tricks, but four spades and five hearts would both be unbeatable. Even with your actual hand, I'd have made five hearts against any lead but a diamond or if either finesse won."

DEBATE CONTINUES

The debate went on, touching upon singleton kings and players who bid on cheese and then ran like mice. As usual, nothing was settled. But it's time you handed down your judgment. Who was right — North or South?

South was right even though he turned a profit into a loss by running from the double of

It's Vacation Time; Time To Try For Another Record

School is out; vacation is here. It's time for hikes, picnics, beach parties, and fun.

And it's also time for fires.

We've had an unusual year this year. It started out to be so dry that water district managers considered importing Indian rain dancers. Then a wet, wet March brought our total rainfall above average—the water district men smiled. Then April and May were dry again—and windy.

This has resulted in a difficult fire situation. Grass and brush of the watershed, spurred into growth by March rains, browned and dried quickly in the windy Spring. Thus now, the grass and brush is two or three weeks ahead of schedule in combustibility.

In brief, there is more fire danger in our fields and on our hillsides today than there usually is in early July.

Last year, as a sort of farewell present to retiring County Fire Chief Charles Reiley, Marin firemen and the general public set a new record. Only 193 acres of Marin land in unincorporated areas were burned over during the entire year. It was the lowest burned acreage ever recorded in the history of the county fire department.

This year we have a new fire chief, Louis J. Bloom, who had been Reiley's assistant. Chief Bloom is both proud of last year's record and anxious to duplicate it this year.

"And we can do it too, with the help of the public," says Chief Bloom.

He's been getting a little help from the fogs, which keep humidity high, but continuing winds worry him.

How can the public help?

Be careful with matches, camp fires, cigarettes. Don't back cars into the dry grass of a hillside or meander them through dry brush or grass. Train the children to respect the power of matches; have them bring them home whenever or wherever they find them. Be alert to dangerous situations which you might witness.

Even grass fires which "do no damage" cost many thousands of dollars to fight and extinguish each year. Those that cause damage send the cost soaring. With the memory of last year's Hollywood Hills catastrophe still fresh in our minds, it's necessary to pledge "it must not happen here."

Slip-Slap, Slip-Slap—Painting Time

The scent of thinner and paint filling Marin air proclaims the advent of painting season.

With assurance of dry weather, Marinites are busy on their outdoor furniture, porches and patios. The slip-slap of the paint brushes has become the signal of impending summer.

Most Marinites are do-it-yourselfers on the small jobs. This usually means paint on hair and face and other places where it shouldn't be.

Some people wear paint in their hair with a kind of diffident pride — like some kind of householder's merit badge.

HE USED HIS TALENTS WELL

Precision workmanship by a crane operator in Brooklyn saved the lives of three men who were trapped under a 20-foot slab.

The three were pinned under the huge piece of concrete when a retaining wall collapsed at their construction site.

Things He Hasn't Done Also Can Mark Man For What He Is

NEW YORK (AP)—A man is known by the footprints he leaves in the sands of time.

But deeds are not the only measure of identity.

What you haven't done tells who you are in this world just about as surely as what you did do.

For example:
I am the fellow who at 51 never has:

Won more than $5 on a horse race.

Gone scuba diving.
Shaken hands with a Republican President born east of the Mississippi River.

Kissed a great-great-grandmother.

Married a red-haired girl (but did marry a brunette and a blonde, who turned out to be the same girl).

Met a one-armed paperhanger with the itch.

Read a novel by Leo Tolstoy.

Ridden on the back of a fire truck.

Been given a ticket for jaywalking, or bought a ticket to a policeman's ball.

Known a man who carried his Phi Beta Kappa key in his pocket.

Borrowed money from a millionaire, or known one who'd lend me any.

Played handball, squash, water polo or lacrosse.

Used snuff or learned to like cigarettes.

Gone grouse shooting with a king, or danced with a queen or princess.

Heard a defeated politician admit he had lost in a clean election.

Slept where George Washington never did—in the White House.

DARED TO TALK back to a woman who muscled in ahead of me at the checkout counter in a supermarket.

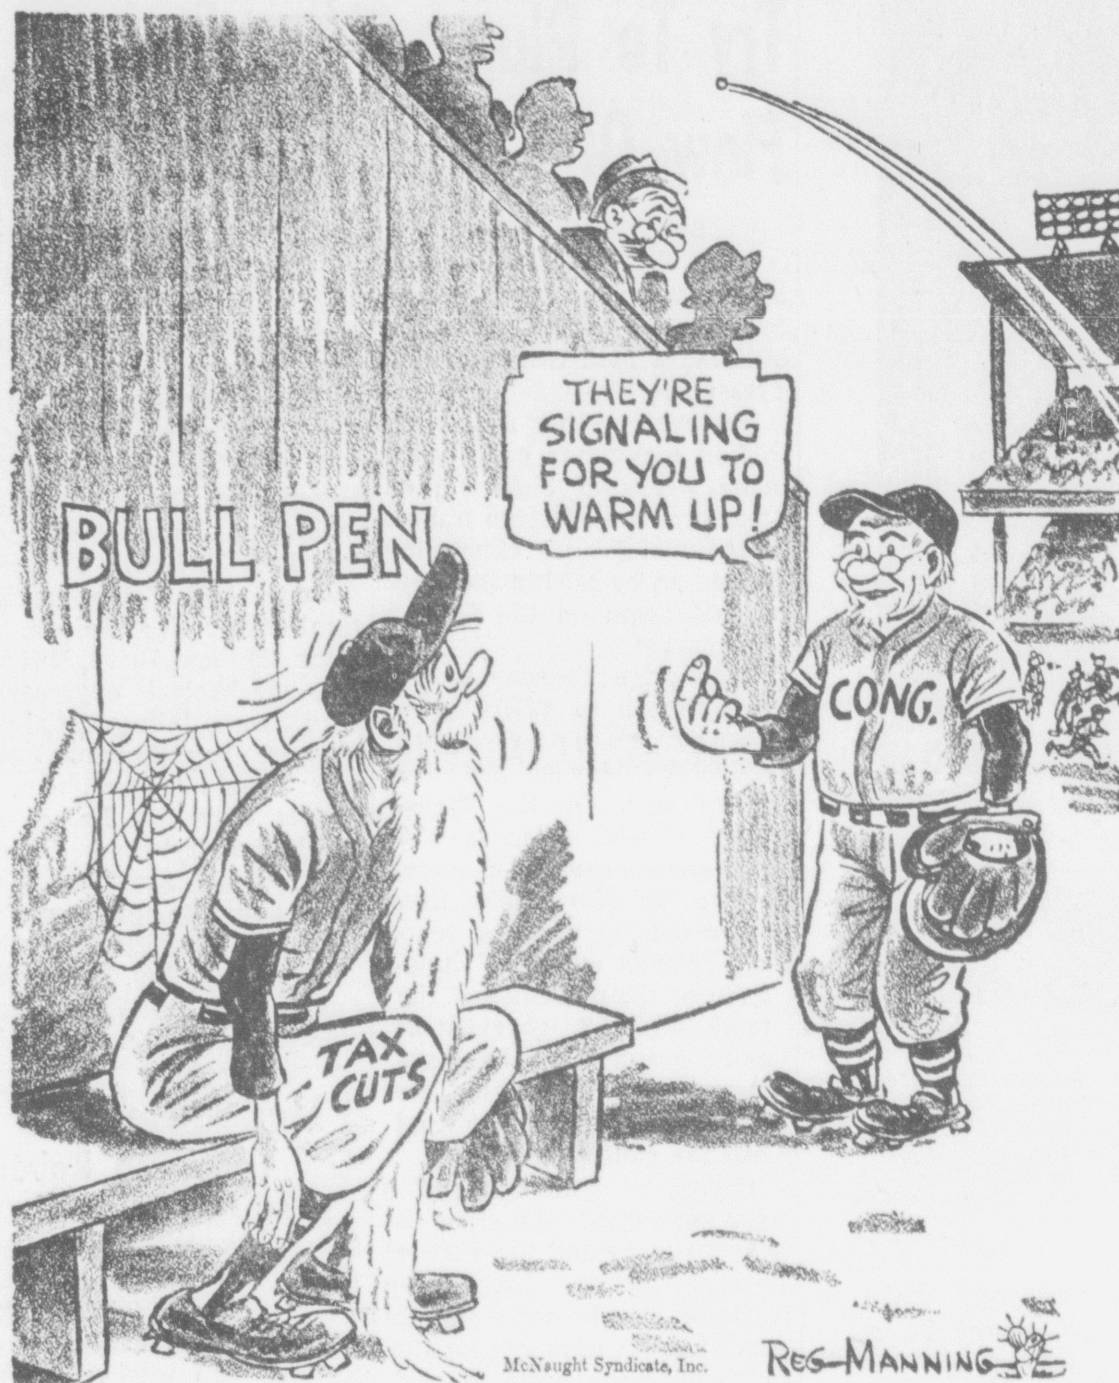

Seen a bank robbery or a holdup in progress.

Saved an old lady from a burning building.

BEEN GIVEN A gold watch for devoted service to the organization.

Now you know who I am. Who are you? Just tell me enough things you haven't done, and I can pick you out from any other human being who ever lived.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

School Needs

Moat, Drawbridge

EDITOR, Independent-Journal:

As a resident of Boardwalk One in Larkspur, I feel compelled to reply to the letter signed by Jean N. Grunbaum, which was published in the I-J on Tuesday, June 12.

Her loyalty to V. D. Seidel is commendable and is doubtless seconded by Mrs. Seidel and others. I must point out, however, that there are other points of view somewhat less partisan which should be considered.

The Larkspur city officials and the I-J are not, as the lady charges, to be blamed for making Mr. Seidel look ridiculous. They merely called attention to a course of action which would seem to me to come closer to fitting the description of vindictive and hysterical than consistent with the dignity of a school authority.

So far as I know, there was no effort made to contact people on the boardwalk and solicit their cooperation. This, aside from the original notice which was stuck in the windshields of cars and which was interpreted by some as applying only to the times that school was in session. Most of us abided by the sign prohibition and parked on the street when we found we were not welcome.

The people of the boardwalk were not responsible for putting the driveway and fence across the easement. The school board employs engineers for the purpose of establishing these things, and the construction went ahead despite the fact that it was pointed out to the contractor or engineer that it constituted an encroachment.

The public nature of a school, which belongs to all of the taxpayers, should make it extremely cautious about singling out any group and saddling them with the inference of trespassing. Undoubtedly the school officials and others important to its function have the priority to its use. This should not be construed, however, as ownership. It seems such a pity to us who are harassed by new development to have all that space going to waste a large part of the time.

I know nothing of Mr. Seidel's qualifications as an educator and am quite willing to accept the teachers' evaluation of this. I do think, however, that he has exhibited an amazing insensitivity to that portion of the educational function which deals with the setting of example to adults as well as children, in community relations.

I do not know who removed his chain and think that this act was just as childish as putting it up in the first place. It is my feeling nevertheless, that if he plans to pursue the same or a similar plan of defense it would be more appropriate to replace the chain with a moat and drawbridge.

Too Much Effort Against Digits

EDITOR, Independent-Journal:

In your letters column, Gladys Fyfe of San Rafael suggests that anti-digit dialers call AT&T's PR representative in New York at 212-393-9800!!!

She must have one of the new phones with exclamation points on the dial for wordy females, because I find no such designation on my dial. If the energy spent in Marin on decrying digits were put to worthy use, there might be less need for "Everyman's" crusades against nuclear outrages.

Jail Is Not Diagnostic Center

EDITOR, Independent-Journal:

That the Marin County jail is not a diagnostic or treatment center has been established by recent events. Certain current jail functions, I believe, should be relegated to a hospital.

The alcoholic who is picked up on a simple drunk charge or who is awaiting commitment to a state hospital is often more in need of medical care than in need of detention.

When the alcoholic arrives at the jail his intoxication may mask an acute underlying problem, such as a head injury, pneumonia, etc. As the alcohol wears off and the alcoholic is less stuporous, he gets withdrawal symptoms. He may go into delirium tremens and die, even if given adequate treatment. His chances are less if he is treated by a jailer.

According to published reports, it is common practice for sheriff's deputies to administer paraldehyde to "raving alcoholics," even without the order of a physician. Such practice is neither legal nor right.

Any alcoholic whose liberty is usurped by jailing either on a drunk charge or for commitment becomes the responsibility of society. Hospital care of these alcoholics would be expensive. But when we choose to deprive someone of his liberty, who is ill in many ways, we should be prepared to pay all costs.

I consider arresting someone on a simple drunk charge equivalent to arresting someone for vagrancy. Either charge is of doubtful legality. The alcoholic presents more problems than the vagrant, however.

If we continue to treat people, ill from alcohol, in jail, we shall continue to have jail deaths, regardless of the personalities involved.

Arts Festival Pleasant Event

EDITOR, Independent-Journal:

A word of praise for the recent Festival of Performing Arts at Dominican.

There were high moments and not so high moments, but it was a wonderful way to spend a weekend and a thoroughly pleasant experience.

May the festival and its audience grow with the years.

Rudy Vallee tells about a drunk who entered a saloon and announced, "I just cut off my finger." "Go on," jeered the bartender, "that's no finger you're holding up there. That's a half-burned cigar." Obviously confused, the drunk threw away the cigar butt and reckoned, "I must have smoked my finger."

A distinguished novelist was complaining at the Coffee

House the other evening that his wife had been driving him batty for 10 years and more. "Why don't you give her the air?" asked a sympathizer. "I can't," mourned the novelist. "She's the only typist I know who can read my damn handwriting."

A new patient of Psychoanalyst Schnickelfritz knew without being told the original source of his insecurity. "It all began when I was a Boy Scout," he told the good Dr. S., as he stretched out on the couch. "The little old lady I was helping across the street got run over by a truck."

Satchel Page, asked the secret of his ability to pitch big-league caliber baseball at the age of 55 (at least) explains, "When I works, I works easy. When I sits, I sits loose. And when I worries—I sleeps!"

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By FRED WYATT

Who Will Succeed Bill Fusselman? Niels Schultz? Warburg? Summers?

With the dust somewhat settled from the June 5 primary election, Central Marin residents are pondering whom to run for Supervisor William D. Fusselman's job in 1964.

So far there are reports that these may run: Niels Schultz Jr., of Greenbrae, Felix M. Warburg of Ross and Mary R. Summers of Kent Woodlands.

This kind of thing could be a family fight if all ran—engineer Schultz and architect Warburg are county planning commissioners and Mrs. Summers is a retired planning director.

SHE IS REPORTED to have had her eye on a supervisor's spot for some years. Now that she and her husband, former state highway advance planning engineer Harold A. Summers, are both retired, they could devote plenty of time and energy to a campaign.

Chances are that Summers and Warburg backers would try to talk one or the other out of the race because they represent kindred views as opposed to those of large-development-minded Schultz, son of Greenbrae caliph Niels Schultz Sr.

The younger Schultz is reported to have long been Fusselman's choice to succeed him in his 20-year hold on the supervisor's chair.

IN RESEARCHING the life and times (up to now) of Vera Schultz, I was interested in learning how caustic, epigrammatic, cape-wearing Frank Lloyd Wright became the architect for the new county civic center.

About five years ago Supervisor Schultz phoned Mrs. Summers to check on a planning matter. Mary was out. Her husband answered the phone.

As they chatted, Mrs. Schultz said, "Say, wouldn't it be wonderful if we could get Frank Lloyd Wright to do the job?"

Summers, an outspoken gent, replied instantly, "Why not?"

That's all Mrs. Schultz needed. She had read Wright's life story and developed an admiration for his gifts before she ever met him.

She took part in a campaign that led to the vote by fellow supervisors to award Wright the commission.

Contract was signed in July, 1958, Wright delivered the plans in 1959 and the first stage is nearing completion for occupancy soon.

MARIN CHAPTER of the Clinton Duffy Fellowship, to aid men with alcoholic problems released from prisons, now meets each Wednesday at 8 p.m. in King Cotton. Chairman George Baney of Corte Madera has the dope (pardon me) details.

It Is More Important To Get Business Recovery Than Tax Reform

WASHINGTON — While there is wide agreement that a tax cut is needed, there is an important difference of opinion on when it should be put into effect.

The administration's position is that a tax cut should be voted in the next session of Congress, if possible early in 1963. If this is done, the effects of the cut will not at best be felt until some 10 months from now.

There are others who think that it is imprudent to wait so long, that what the economy needs is the stimulation of additional demand in the near future. This could be had by action in this session of Congress to cut by a few percentage points the withholding from payrolls for taxes, as well as the installment payments in September and January for incomes and corporations.

EIGHTY PERCENT of personal income tax is paid in the form of withheld wages and salaries. The economic effect of an income tax cut on income and spending would be felt by the beginning of the month after it was enacted.

The argument for waiting until next year rests on the idea that if taxes are cut before the tax structure is reformed (as proposed by the administration), Congress is likely to lose interest in tax reform. The administration's current view is that for the long run tax reform is very important and that it should not be sidetracked by the popularity of a tax cut.

On the contrary, the unpopular features of tax reform should be made more palatable by the tax cut.

THIS MAY BE a correct estimate of congressional psychology. The question is whether the prospects of the economy today do not require a decision to stimulate and prolong the recovery and avert a recession.

Tax reform may be more difficult if the recovery is promoted and sustained by a tax cut. But everything will be more difficult if the recovery is aborted before it has been achieved.

There is ground for thinking that the underlying trend is not towards a full recovery. I myself believe that this is the determining cause of the bear market in stocks which has been in existence since December.

It is true that consumer buying is good, including automobiles and houses, but against this we find that inventories are being kept extremely low, that while hours of work have been steady, unemployment remains high.

MOST DISTURBING and most significant is the fact that plans to purchase plants and equipment—which is the backbone of full employment and a high rate of growth—are disappointingly small. Early in January the administration was hoping for a rise of 14 per cent above the 1961 capital investment level. Today, the figures for May show that current business plans indicate a rise of only about 8 per cent, which is no more than it was back in February.

If this continues, the chances are that the Kennedy recovery, like the Eisenhower recovery of 1960, will grind to a halt.

It is to the problem of our throttled recovery that the administration ought, I think, to address itself primarily. I do not say that tax reform is not important and desirable. But recovery is more important and recovery should not be jeopardized by the legislative prospects for tax reform.

Sally Stanford declared her Sausalito restaurant isn't fronting for any illegal vice activities as charged in the new Lait-Mortimer book "U.S.A. Confidential," which had indicated the Valhalla was mighty wicked. Miss Stanford estimated the cost to her good reputation at $300,000 and asked this in a libel action filed in San Francisco Superior Court, using her name Marcia Gump.

TERRA LINDA

On a hillside overlooking Terra Linda are twelve of the most unique and exciting Eichler homes ever built — the result of more than 2 years of special planning. The homes were designed especially for their location by brilliant architects, who judiciously retained the beauty and drama of the sites.

Even from a distance you can see the exciting flair and distinction these homes possess, and once inside you are in a personal and private world—with sweeping views across the valley and intimate glimpses into wooded hills. Sliding glass doors open to balconies, gardens and patios. Radiant heating is silent and incomparably clean.

MARIN FILM FARE

War Epic Has Raw Action;
Others Are Warm, Serious

By LES DARD

Whatever your taste this weekend, Marin movie theaters Here are capsule comments to help you decide:

TAMALPAIS THEATER
MARIN MOTOR MOVIES

A top cast of young stars offers a closeup study of men under fire in the World War II drama, "Hell Is for Heroes," opening Sunday at both theaters.

This is basically a story of men in a desperate situation, an agonizing 48 hours in which their innermost foibles emerge in reaction to imminent death.

It deals with a squad of men in Europe in 1944. They think their next move will be home, but they are sent instead to hold an almost impossible position on the Siegfried line.

The men react with cynicism, anger and a begrudging kind of gallantry. There is no clique heroism here; they live from minute to minute, kill and are killed because this is war and there simply is no way out.

Steve McQueen is a stony-faced killing machine; Bobby Darin is the squad comic who drops the clowning when courage is called for. Bob Newhart, as a myopic typist who finds himself among seasoned fighters, adds moments of merritment; Fess Parker fills out the principal cast.

Co-featured is "Last Train from Gun Hill," a powerful Western in which marshal Kirk
Douglas must take on a whole town full of gunmen. Anthony Quinn and Carolyn Jones co-star.

RAFAEL THEATER

It will be Walt Disney week starting Sunday at the Rafael with the new "Big Red" and the magnificent Disney documentary of a few years back,
"The Living Desert."

"Big Red" teams the unbeatable duo of a boy and a dog.
The orphaned lad—Giles Pay-ant—is hired as a kennel boy by crusty Canadian dog-breeder Walter Pidgeon to work on his estate in the Canadian wilds. The boy's special charge is Big Red, a setter being groomed to win an important dog show.

Pidgeon, embittered by the loss of a son in the war, regains his humanity and warmth through the antics of his orphan employee.

This is a double bill to delight the family.

NOVATO THEATER

Lucky us. "Flower Drum Song" returns to Novato Sunday. It's the lush musical fa-bule that weaves a magic spell around San Francisco's China-town—the visual delight of the season.

The Rodgers and Hammerstein extravaganza tells about the Chinese picture bride who lands here betrothed to a thoroughly American young man who has other ideas and jilts her for a night club dancer.
The danger in turn carries a torch for the very unconservative scion of a conservative Chinese family.

Cupid finally realizes his arrows are crossed and rear-ranges things for a happy ending, but not until the picture has displayed much dazzling costumery, charming choreography and captivating music.
The Oriental cast includes Nancy Kwan, Miyoshi Umeki,
James Shigeta and Jack Soo.

SEQUOIA THEATER

Elvis Presley moves to the Sequoia Sunday in "Follow That Dream," a good clean comedy all ages will enjoy.

Presley stars as the son of a shiftless Southern family which has lived off the government for years because "the gov'ment's loaded."

But suddenly on a vacation in Florida all this changes. The family's car breaks down; they spend the night on an isolated beach; in the morning, they like what they see and decide to homestead.

Florida finds they're within

Ross Student Graduates

Julia H. Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dudley F. Miller,
25 Hill Drive, Ross, has graduated from Radcliffe College with a bachelor of arts degree in English. She was among 552 graduates receiving degrees in commencement exercises Wednesday.

A BOY AND A DOG—A film story for all the family, "Big Red," Walt Disney's newest Technicolor production, opens today at the Rafael Theater. Parents' magazines and other critics have acclaimed the picture one of Disney's finest for family entertainment.

their rights, and the family turns the barren stretch into a fishing resort. Soon they have plenty of company and plenty of fun.

Supporting players are Anne Helm, Joanna Moore and Arthur O'Connell.

LARK THEATER

"The Victim," now showing, is a British film which considers the homosexual in today's society, particularly in the light of the Wolfenden law, which makes such abnormality a crime in Britain.

The picture is not unlike "The Mark," in that it handles the sensitive material in good taste and without sensationalism.

The plot concerns a brilliant young barrister—the victim of the title—who is guilty only of contemplating an act labeled a crime. He is married and tries desperately to suppress his tendencies.

The story tells of his decision to sacrifice marriage and career to expose a ring of blackmailers preying on per-verts. It is a story of courage and conviction.

An adult picture in every way.

FAIRFAX THEATER

"The Bed," a spicy import with several tales to tell, arrives tonight at the Fairfax.

Richard Todd stars in the first story, as a wartime officer who delivers a baby in a small French village.

Martine Carol appears in the second as a pretty but poor demi-mondaine who receives a bed which reputedly belonged to Madame Pompadour. As a result, her fortune changes for the better, until she becomes involved with a public official who had intended the bed for his own mistress in the first place.

The third tale involves Marcel Mouloudji as a truck driver involved with pretty Francoise Arnoul, and the last brings together Vittorio de Sica and Dawn Addams in a story of divorce.
